May I ask that you continue to record information about your own family. It is so easy to forget names, dates, and facts that these should be permanently itemized as events occur. Then in later years perhaps it will be much easier for those who may wish to bring the account of our North family up to date. Several pages have been left at the back for recording these data.

METHOD OF INDEXING

It will be helpful if, before you peruse this book, you familiarize yourself with the method of indexing names and families. Many people dislike genealogies because of complicated indexing systems. The method employed in this book is the simplest possible, easy to follow, and foolproof. It may be continued indefinitely.

This is a genealogy of both the male and female descendants of JOHN NORTH. An index, listing names found in this book is at the back. The Christian names of blood descendants are capitalized. Also included in the index are the names of the spouses of those who married. Their Christian names are printed in lower case letters. A classification number follows the name.

The classification numbers have a special continuity. For example, JOHN NORTH, the first-known ancestor, has been given the number "1." His children, in order of birth are: "11", "12", "13", etc. The children of "12" would be "121". "122", "123", etc. In bracket form the names and numbers of the first three generations appear as follows:

1 John North
- 11 Catharine North
- 12 James North
  - 121 John North
  - 122 Sarah North
  - 123 Henry North
  - etc.
- 13 Mary North
- 14 John North
- 15 Henry North
  - 151 James North
  - 152 Ann North
  - 153 William North
  - etc.
- 16 William North
- 17 Joseph North

In the biographies the names and numbers are written:

1 JOHN NORTH
Children:
11 Catharine North
12 James North
13 Mary North
etc.

To take an example from one in a later generation, a number and name would appear in the biographies as:

1812 35 MARVIN NORTH

Each digit in the number indicates a generation. Thus, the number "1812 35" represents an individual in the sixth generation. A space is used between the fourth and fifth digits for easier reading. The number "1812 35", when read from right to left (backwards) indicates that MARVIN NORTH is the fifth child of the third child of the second child, etc., of the common ancestor.

Following the name of MARVIN NORTH are names in brackets - ( )

1812 35 MARVIN NORTH (George, James, Henry, William, John)

These names indicate the lineage back to the common ancestor. That is, MARVIN NORTH's father was George North; his grandfather, James North; etc.

Furthermore, dropping the last digit of the number of any individual gives the identifying number of the parent. By dropping the last two digits one arrives at the number of the grandparent, etc. For example:

1812 35	MARVIN NORTH
1812 3	George North	parent
1812	James North	grandparent
181	Henry North	great, grandparent
18	William North	great, great, grandparent
1	John North	great, great, great, grandparent

Also, the numbers of the children of any individual take his or her index number, plus the digits, "1", "2", "3", etc. for as many children as were born. For instance, the children of MARVIN NORTH would be numbered as follows:

1812 35 MARVIN NORTH
Children:
1812 351

1812 352
1812 353
etc.

In a few cases there have been marriages between individuals within our "North family." In these cases a continuation of the numbering system for the male parent has been used for their children.

To find a biography of the immediate ANCESTOR (parent) of any given person, first refer to his (her) identification number, then drop the last digit and turn to the biography in the section of the book dealing with that generation. For instance, one wishes to locate the biography of the parent of

By dropping the last digit, "5", we know the parent's number is 1812 3

and he is in the FIFTH GENERATION, as the number has five digits. By locating the number "1818 3" in the chapter, "FIFTH GENERATION", we find the biography of MARVIN NORTH's father.

Likewise, if we want to locate the biography of the grandparent of

1812 35 MARVIN NORTH

we drop the last two digits, "5" and "3", and determine that the grandparent's number is and appropriately the biography will be found in the section covering the FOURTH GENERATION.

1812

In many cases an individual did not marry, or died young. Thus, there would be no biography, but the name is listed as one of the children in the biography of the parent. As an example, the index number gives the individual as:

1842 671

but no biography is found in the SEVENTH GENERATION. One must then drop the last digit, "1", and refer to the parent whose number is and may be found in the section dealing with the SIXTH GENERATION.

1842 67

To find the full account of a DESCENDANT (child) of any individual, first, from the biographical sketch of that person find the child's number and refer to this number under the paragraph headings in the NEXT GENERATION.

Addresses are given for persons appearing in the later generations - either for the person classified, or if they have passed away, for his or her spouse.

The symbols used throughout this book are generally self-explanatory: (b), born; (d), died; (bap), baptized; (bur), buried; (pr), parish record. References are given for all pertinent material.

PREFACE

Most of us knew our parents; some of us, our grandparents. We may have heard the names of our great, grandparents. But generally speaking, we know little of our ancestors - when or where they lived, or what their occupations or interests were.

In my childhood I heard the stories of some of my ancestors - of hard times in England, of Atlantic crossings of six to eight weeks by sail boat, of mutinies on shipboard, of the flogging of recalcitrant sailors, of hard winters in America, of prairie fires and windstorms - tales of times good and bad; and I began to realize that as parents and grandparents advanced in years, the fascinating stories were told less and less frequently and with less and less vividness, and dates seemed to be buried in obscurity.

Few in our NORTH family have preserved these accounts, and appreciating that UNLESS THEY ARE RECORDED TODAY, THEY WILL NOT BE AVAILABLE TOMORROW, I set about gathering these stories and facts together lest they be lost forever.

Originally I was interested in tracing only my own antecedants. However, in the course of the search, I came upon so much information that I decided to compile a detailed record of all members of our family. At first the project seemed endless; but as each additional name, and each bit of information was added, there was the incentive to continue. The result is in the following pages.

In about 1900, Joseph North (173), then living in El Paso, Illinois, (where I was born) prepared a brief report of our early relatives. It found its way to my father who added the names of his closest relatives. Joseph's notes, written from memory, had, as one would expect, many omissions; but as he did not come to America until forty years after most of the other Norths, he had good knowledge of the families remaining in England. Although Joseph North did not record many dates - none with month and day - the information was exceptionally helpful in providing a starting point for this book. His brief writings, composed of five, small, penciled pages, are now a part of my files.

It was in 1937 that I became enthusiastic about our ancestors and began to record the data found in the pages ahead. Information regarding the early families was searched from the records of the parish registers in England, military service was checked and verified, and census reports gathered. American churches were contacted for early records. Searches were made of deeds and titles. Many copies of the El Paso, Illinois, papers were read. Contacts were made with various families now remaining in England, America, Canada, and other countries. Dates were added, verified, or corrected.

I found that no one in America had corresponded with the English families for many years, but I have been able to get in touch with practically all; and this renewal of acquaintance has been one of my most pleasant experiences during the preparation of this genealogy.

On February 21, 1965, I made a trip to the Lincolnshire area of England to visit the many churches, landmarks, and towns mentioned in these pages. It was my pleasure to visit several of the "North" families living there now. On March 12-13, 1966, I made another trip and spent considerable time in studying some of the early parish records and obtaining a great amount of other information to help make this manuscript as complete and accurate as possible.

This book contains the names of many hundred individuals. There are some omissions, however, for in some cases it has been possible to gather only meager data. Perhpas some who read these pages will notice the absence of pertinent material. In such cases I wish to request that you forward it to me so that I may add it to the record.

In compiling the thousands of dates, places, and extracts in this genealogy, and with so many reporting information - some of it from memory - I have, no doubt, included occasional errors. When such are found, I would appreciate the correct information.

My part in this work has been very interesting - a long-time hobby. The many letters I have received from members of the various branches have been most gratifying. To those who helped furnish the necessary material, I am particularly indebted. To my sister, Mrs. Lulu Mae (North) Feldman (1512 2), who read much of the manuscript and offered many valuable suggestions, I extend special thanks. I am grateful to Miss Phyllis North (1714 211) for her assistance during my visits to the Lincolnshire area. Without the help of my wife, Margaret, who did much of the typing and encouraged me to continue my work, this genealogy would not have been completed. Many who helped me with this work several years ago have now passed away, but I am certain that all who read these pages will well realize the importance of their contributions.

Naturally I have been able to gather more facts regarding some individuals than others. I have, because of space, had to limit the biographies of those in the later generations, but have tried to give more detailed accounts of those in the earlier. In practically all cases, however, I have included all the pertinent information about each person, so far as I have it.

MACK O. NORTH (1512 3)

INTRODUCTION

The surname of NORTH is said to have been first used as the title of one who came from the North, possibly an early Norse or Scadinavian settler in England. There is a tradition that the first with this name in England was one who came with William the Conqueror and married his daughter.

The name of North was found quite early among the landed gentry and nobility of Britain. John DeNorth was among the earliest with the name. He lived in London during 1273. There was a Robert North of Oxfordshire about the same time. Willelmus, Magareta, and Johannes del North were in Yorkshire in 1379; and a Robert North of Nottinghamshire was born about 1365. Another branch of the family may be traced to the sixteenth century to Edward North of Lancashire. An Irish branch, descended from the "Guilford" Norths of England, is said to have been represented about 1650 by a John North of County West Meath. Two of his grandsons, Caleb and John, came to America about 1730 and settled. Many other lines are common in early English recordings; hardly a parish record can be examined without finding the name.

Several other Norths, not in our line, came from England to America in the early days: John North in Farmington, Connecticut, in 1635; Thomas North, Queen City, Virginia, about 1623; Thomas North, New Haven, Connecticut, about 1645; Thomas North, Providence, Rhode Island, about 1670; Edward North, Boston, Massachusetts, about 1675; Stephen North, Boston, about 1710; and Daniel North, Barnstable, Massachusetts, about 1712. In spite of the many lines in existence in America today, there are still more in England. The name may also be found in many sections of the world.

In our line, JOHN NORTH of Lincolnshire, England, is the earliest-known antecedent; and two of his grandchildren emigrated to America in 1845, to become the first of our known relatives to permanently leave England. Since then many in our group have left their homeland to live in other countries.

Thus, from a limited beginning, the name of NORTH has become widespread, but because of its early origin it is frequently found today.

OUR COMMON ANCESTOR

JOHN NORTH of Lincolnshire, England, our common ancestor, was born about 1746. He and his wife, Mary (Sharp), were listed seven times in the Tydd St. Mary parish records as the parents of their children. These are the earliest known recordings of his name. Where he was born and married are mere suppositions, and there is no authentic information regarding his antecedents. His burial was recorded at Tydd St. Mary in 1791.

Some in America have said that John North was a descendant of the Irish branch of the Norths, but this has not been established, and seems only remotely possible, as Christian names used by the early generations were not of Irish origin.

Joseph North (173), who recorded some of the early history of our family, mentioned the town of Boston, Lincolnshire, as the birthplace of John North. However, a check of the Boston parish records has failed to reveal a record of his baptism. All records of baptisms, marriages, and burials at Boston as far back as 1563 have been checked. Several entries are in evidence, indicating that the name of North, although not common in the area, was certainly far from uncommon.

(In the following, day and month are available for all entries, but are not listed here as part of the data.)

Included in this list of "Boston Norths" was a Peter Northe, who was buried May 3, 1563. An Arthur North married Anne Ryley on May 26, 1614; and William and Rosamond North were parents of Katherin, born in 1642, and William, in 1648. A William North (porter) was buried there July 6, 1664.

The records also show that a Mathew and Ann North were parents of six children: Henry, born in 1668; Elizabeth, 1669; Mathew, 1671; Elizabeth, 1673; Mathew, 1675; and Joseph, 1680. A further record shows that Mrs. North was buried September 3, 1689.

On March 13, 1679, William North, son of Alic and Ann (Hadick) North, was baptized.

In Skirbeck, a suburb of Boston, the marriage of Thomas North and Jane Bishop (widow) on May 27, 1708, is the only early parish record listed. However, there were those in Skirbeck who remembered a large family of Norths who were mariners and lived there the last part of the nineteenth century.

Another John North, a mariner, resided in Boston from about 1700 until his death. His burial was recorded March 30, 1743. By his wife, Martha, he was the father of Sarah, born in 1701; John, 1702; Martha, 1706; Sarah, 1708; Grace, 1711; Mary, 1713; and Thomas, 1714.

A Joseph and Mary North were listed in the parish transcripts of Boston as the parents of Sarah, born in 1701; and Elizabeth, in 1705. Also, on May 6, 1701, a Johanna North was married to John Glenn; and a Mary North was married to Thomas Jackson on May 3, 1716.

The Boston transcripts also show that a Thomas North lived there during the last quarter of the eighteenth century. He married Sarah Tooley on December 16, 1779, and by her was the father of four children: Sarah, born in 1783; Anne, 1785; Mary, 1786; and Ann, 1789. Their daughter, Mary, was buried June 16, 1789, having died of smallpox, and as Thomas North was given as the only parent, it seems probable that Mrs. North had died before the death of the child. This same Thomas North was again married on August 25, 1791, to Frances French. The baptisms of two children by this marriage are listed in the records: Frances, 1792; and James, 1793.

The marriage of a Richard North (laborer) and Sarah Barton was recorded January 18, 1796; and these two were the parents of William and Samuel (probably twins), born in 1801.

In 1796, a Thomas North, son of George and Mary North, is listed in the baptismal records.

On October 19, 1800, another Thomas North (bachelor) and Elizabeth Holmes (spinster) were married at Boston.

In 1751, a Samuel North married Elizabeth Littledike. Both were of Syston (Siston), Lincolnshire, and raised a large family there: Ann, born in 1752; John, 1753; Edward, 1757; Sarah, 1759; John, 1760; Thomas, 1761; Tibitha, 1765; Zebedee, 1766; James, 1767; John, 1769; and George, 1771. However, this group does not seem to bear relationship to our line.

It is believed that John North, representing the first-known ancestor of our group, was born near Boston. Thus, it seems reasonalbe that, in a land where the name of North was not too common, some of these Norths were at least distantly, if not closely, related to our line.

Not to be dismayed after the failure to find a record of the baptism or marriage of John North at Boston, I had the parish records of Tydd St. Mary, Sutton St. James, Long Sutton, Tydd St. Giles, and other nearby towns in the Lincolnshire and Cambridgeshire areas checked, hoping that his birthplace or marriage might have been recorded in one of these. But each was a negative search.

However, at Tydd St. Mary there is a recorded burial of a "Robert North, died, age 1 1/4 years, July 16, 1793." There is also a record of the burial of "Elizabeth North, who dropped down and expired almost immediately, November 2, 1795." These two were not in our line, but it is interesting to note that other Norths were living there then.

In the parish of Tydd St. Mary, however, many entries with the name of Sharp (Sharpe) were found. On August 2, 1751, the marriage of John Sharp of Whittlesea, and Amey Forth of Sutton, S. Lincolnshire, was recorded. On February 25, 1754, Henry Sharpe (single) and Anne Hammon (single), both of Tydd St. Mary, were married.

Also, on November 19, 1754, Thomas Sharp of Tydd St. Mary (a single man) and Jane Wallis of the parish of Sutton in the County of Lincoln, and single, were married by license. Of further interest is that in the south aisle of the parish church of Tydd St. Mary is a tablet bearing the following inscription:

THOMAS SHARP(E)
DIED 21ST MAY
AGED 60 YEARS
JANE, WIFE OF THOMAS SHARP(E)
DIED, 27TH AUGUST, 1768, AGED 36 YEARS
JOHN, THEIR SON
DIED, 14TH NOVEMBER, 1762, AGED 5 YEARS
BRIDGET, THEIR DAUGHTER
ALSO JANE AND SARAH, THEIR DAUGHTERS
DIED IN INFANCY
THIS MONUMENT ERECTED BY
EDMUND PELL SHARP(E) OF LONDON

Although the parish record and the original plaque use the name "Sharp" one can quckly see that an "E" was added to the plaque some time later. The parish record also states that Samuel Sharp was from Spaulding, and spells the name "Sharp."

Joshua Bryan, of the parish of Sutton, and Ann Sharpe, widow, were married by license on May 1, 1759. Christoper Bud, a single man, and Elizabeth Sharpe, spinster, both of Tydd St. Mary, were married at Tydd St. Mary on October 21, 1762.

Th occurrence of the Sharp and Sharpe family or families at Tydd St. Mary is of interest because it indicates a probability that there was a relationship with the family at Boston, for we know the name was not common in England.

Next, I turned my attention to the Lincoln Wills and Administrations, but they shed no light on the origin of John North; however, this was not a surprise as he was not of the landed gentry, and no doubt would not have been required to file a will. None the less, I did find that a Thomas North filed a will in Tydd St. Mary in 1611, and a John North at the same location in 1628, but these seemed to be too far removed to be of any consequence.

The lists of apprentices between 1710 and 1762 for the county of Lincoln were next scrutinized. There were several entries for the name "North" during the period, but none for the Tydd St. Mary district.

Poll books for Lincolnshire were next examined. Only one North , a hair dresser (and later postmaster) by the name of Thomas North was recorded, and that in Spalding, Lincolnshire. As John North undoubtedly did not own his home, and all those who had the right to vote did not pursue their option, it is again not surprising that he was not listed in the Poll Books.

It was here that another line of search was initiated in an endeavor to find the origin of our common ancestor. It was known that John North worked at Tydd St. Mary for John Stanger, a farmer. This meant that John Stanger probably owned land, and as many such landowners kept their employess with them from early childhood, it might be possible to progress in my search by finding the birthplace of John Stanger.

Reverting to the Document Collection, a MS pedigree of John Stanger of Tydd St. Mary was found. The recording shows he was the fifth child and second son of Thomas Stanger of N. Moulton, Northants, a farmer. John Stanger was born in 1742, and died in 1823, and was twice married: first to Mary Smith, who died in 1776, and secondly on June 8, 1778, but his second wife's name is not known. By her, John had a large number of children of whom one son married a Miss Young, and both came to America. This is quite clearly the John Stanger who was the employer of John North.

Thus, there is every indication that members of the Stanger family were originally residents of Northamptonshire before going to the Tydd St. Mary district. John Stanger's father, Thomas Stanger, died there in about 1783, as his will was filed that year. At that time Thomas Stanger's profession was given as "tradesman."

The name of Stanger is extremely rare in the early English records - much more so than the name of North. Consequently, I conjectured that any location of a Stanger family might possibly lead to information regarding our ancestors.

There are no early church records for the name of Stanger at Tydd St. Mary; but there are two entries for Strangers: Elizabeth, daughter of Samuel and Pricilla Lewis Strangers, was baptized March 30, 1724; and Sarah, daughter of George and Sarah Kirby Strangers, on December 22, 1729. Not to be overlooked is the possibility that this might have been an earlier alternative spelling.

At the front of the north aisle in the Tydd St. Mary Parish Church is a stone plaque inscribed:

TO PRESERVE THE MEMORY OF
JOHN STANGER, ESQ.
OF STRAWBERRY HALL
WHO DIED JANUARY 12, 1842
AGED 73 YEARS
AND HIS WIFE

This man lived in too late a period to have been John North's employer, but could have been a son.

A further check of the Lincoln Wills and Administrations showed that in the Court of Prebendary of Sleaford, Lincolnshire, a limited administration bond for a John Stanger was filed there in 1832. It appears then that John Stanger retired there in his old age, but in all probability this information would have no bearing on the location of his or John North's birth.

The fact that the Thomas North mentioned above, lived in Spalding, Lincolnshire, during the period around 1800, prompted a search in the records filed there. Except at Boston, more early entries for Norths were found at Spalding than any other parish in Lincolnshire. Among these was an early record of a John North who married Alice Willson there on August 27, 1669; and another of a John North who married Ann Boyal (of Gosberton) there on March 16, 1774.

Of equal importance in my search for the birthplace of John North, was the discovery that a Stanger family also resided at Spalding. A Thomas Stanger married Susannah Stevenson there on July 11, 1808. Having regard that Spalding is only approximately 15 miles distant from Tydd St. Mary, it seemed possible that the coincidence of the North and Stanger entries might shed some light on my search.

A detailed check of the Spalding baptismal records between 1740 and 1765, the period during which the birth of John North probably occurred, revealed no entry for a John North, but a William North, son of Richard and Ann North was baptized July 17, 1749. Elizabeth North, daughter of Jospeh and Ann North, was baptized July 4, 1756, and she married Richard Willson on September 1, 1777, at Spalding. Joseph and Ann Northwere also the parents of Mary, born about 1757, for she was baptized July 26, 1765, at the age of eight years.

The Spalding entries during this period showed the presence of several families with the name of Sharp. Robert, son of John and Amelia Sharp, was baptized February 22, 1754. An entry made on February 20, 1760, showed that a Mary Sharp, daughter of Samuel and Sarah Sharp, was baptized that day. Although this Mary Sharp would not seem to have been the wife of our common ancestor, John North, there is still a remote possibility. Furthermore, the occurrence of families by the name of Stanger, North, and Sharp in the Spalding area would seem to be important.

Thomas and Rachel Sharp were the parents of Elizabeth, baptized at Spalding on September 25, 1763.

John Sharpe and Mary Tooley were married May 4, 1778, at Spalding. Of importance too, is that in the tenth paragraph of this chapter it may be noted that a Thomas North of Boston, Lincolnshire, married a Sarah Tooley on December 16, 1779. The dates indicate that the two Miss Tooleys were of similar age, and that there could have been a close acquaintanceship between several of the families mentioned in this chapter, and that some may have been blood relatives.

Thomas Silkett and Elizabeth Sharpe were married on May 22, 1780, at Spalding, and Robert Sharpe married Rhoda Staples on December 1, 1780. No doubt the Sharpe individuals mentioned in this and the above paragraph are the same as those whose births are listed above, but with a final "e" added to the name.

It is regrettable that my many years of searching the English records for the ancestors of JohnNorth, our common ancestor, have proved fruitless. It is hoped, however, that this review of my findings will be the basis for continued searching by members of our family, and that some day we will know more about the origin of our group.

FIRST GENERATIONS IN ENGLAND

We can look to the county of Lincoln in southeast England as the birthplace of our NORTH family - at least as we know it in recent times. In extreme southeast Lincoln lies a low, flat section extending to the sea. In early days the eastern part of this area was covered with tide water which moved in and out of the marshes as the tide rose and fell. At the western edge of this tide-covered land was a higher area on which such villages as Long Sutton, Sutton Crosses, Sutton Garnsgate, Tydd St. Mary, Sutton St. James, and nearby Tydd St. Giles in Cambridgeshire could be found, all frequently referred to in this book as homesites of our early North ancestors. Farther inland, and behind this elevation was another body of swampy water, mostly drainage from the higher area still farther to the west.

During the years of the Roman occupation of England the first attempts were made to control the sea waters which invaded these fens of Lincolnshire from The Wash, a large bay off the North Sea. The Romans excavated canals to carry off the water, built embankments to keep out the sea, and constructed causeways for travel across the swampy marshlands during low tide. It was on one of these causeways that King John was supposedly travelling in 1216 when his entourage was overwhelmed by the tide and he was forced to leave the crown jewels and other priceless treasure in order to save his own life. These valuables, presumably still buried, have enticed treasure hunters to this day. But most of the work of the early Romans has been erased by time, or has sunk into the swampy marshlands.

Many generations passed before reclamation was again pursued - this time by the monk pioneers who were seeking seclusion and a living from the land. Eventually they brought a great part of the fenland under cultivation. But their numbers decreased; and the area degenerated to its original swampiness. It was not until the reign of Charles I that serious attempts were again made to enlarge the cultivated area of this section. A century later, when our common ancestor, John North, settled there, the area, though primative, was well established as a great grassland region where sheep were raised in large numbers. But time has precipitated new endeavors, and now crops have replaced the grass; practically the entire area is cultivated. Most of the Fens is now rich, agricultural country - probably the richest in England; and there are no industrial towns. Sugar beets, potatoes, tulip bulbs, grain, fruit and truck crops are generally grown.

John North, our first-known ancestor, lived near Tydd St. Mary, a small, rural village at the extreme southeast edge of Lincolnshire. Its population at that time was fewer than 200 people. Today it boasts of 800, but now, as then, most people live on farms rather in the town proper. St. Mary is the church; and Tydd is the tide which extends to its limit in the River Nene, a short distance to the southeast. Although Tydd St. Mary is now several miles inland, just east are the remains of a wall built by the Romans in those very early days to keep out the sea.

The early history of this part of the country is very largely the history of the early English church of the area. The one at Tydd St. Mary was an early landmark. There was certainly a church there in Saxon times. It was one of only two churches in South Holland (the name sometimes used in describing the area) referred to in Doomsday Book (1086). This first church was probably destroyed or removed, for the present church must be at the same location.

The Parish Church of Tydd St. Mary is composed of a tower standing some 55 feet high, topped by a plain, ashlar spire, also 55 feet high. Built on a poor foundation in the 15th century, both the tower and steeple lean slightly towards the south. The nave, which is but 15 feet in width, and was built at the end of the Norman period (1145-1185), has five arcades. The long, fine chancel was probably first built in the 12th century, then the roof raised and the area expanded in the 14th. The east window was first built about 1320, but the present large, arched, 5-light, stained glass installation was made in 1869. The north and south aisles and the porch are of 15th century origin, but the south aisle and the porch were later restored. (A Short Guide to the Parish Church of Tydd St. Mary) (A Guide to the Fens and Fenland Churches).

It is said that Nicholas Breakspear - Adrian the Fourth - the only Englishman ever to become pope, was a rector there in the 12th century.

Thus, being off the beaten path - at least since the Danes finished raiding the coast - the district has not been concerned with wars and battles, but mainly the church and farming.

John North married Mary Sharp and located near Tydd St. Mary about 1779. The area was largely grassland, and sparsely settled. It was a wild unbroken plain, edged on the east by the old Roman Bank. The monotonous succession of field and field must have been quite a playground for the North Winds, and treeless except for some thorn bushes behind which the sheep slept.

There was practically no cultivated land. Rather, agriculture was confined to the raising of sheep, a few cattle, and geese. Thousands of sheep were grazed over the landowner's premises in bands held together by shepherds.

TYDD ST. MARY PARISH CHURCH

Much of the marshy land belonged to the parish churches, and was "common property," to be used by poor and the rich. Squatters built sod huts or mud cottages with just a brick chimney at the edge of these marshes, then fenced in a bit of ground for a garden.

The poor were greedy. Robberies, sheep stealing (punishable by death), and murder ran rampant on the Fens. The people were poor; the poverty stricken, a problem. Churches regularly collected tithes to be distributed to the less fortunate; taxes were levied for the same purpose (A History of Long Sutton).

John North, not being of the landed gentry, spent his brief lifetime for one who was. The meager facts are that he worked as a sheperd for a John Stanger, Esq., local landowner. Just one-half mile west of Tydd St. Mary is "Strawberry Hall," a modern brick home built perhaps fifty years ago on land belonging to the Stanger family. This, no doubt, is a part of the same land which John Stanger owned at that time.

John and his wife probably lived in a wood plank "cottage" provided by his employer. A meager salary, supplemented with vegetables from his own, small garden, were his. How they managed to provide for a growing family seems beyond comprehension. There could have been nothing but hardships for these two. Then to bring tragedy, John, at 45, died prior to the birth of his last child. Mary was left with the entire family. The eldest was nine.

How the family was able to stay together in those early days is unknown, yet none was "bound out" or apprenticed, as so often was the custom when parents were unable to provide for their children.

In those days schools were not for farm laborers; only the wealthy were fortunate enough to be educated. Thus, neither John, his wife, nor any of his children was able to read or write.

Their only surce of employment was as a servant or farm laborer, and although the children were kept together when young, they did go to work in the area at a very early age.

One daughter, Catharine, died in infancy; the other daughter, Mary, died at the age of 26, unmarried. Five sons remained. One, John, joined the British Army at the age of 20 years, and was single when he was killed in battle eight years later. Another, Henry, also joined the army, served his term, and returned to Tydd St. Mary to live.

All four of the remaining sons who lived to adulthood, married, but not at a young age. One was 27; one, 29; one, 32; and another, 33. These four were the only progenitors of the descendants of John and Mary North.

James was the only son to remain at Tydd St. Mary, where he worked as a farm laborer. The other three moved to Long Sutton, a larger community three miles to the north. Their children were born in these respective communities. Thus, all in the third generation were born within a few miles of each other. In fact, all lived in the area for many years. Such close proximity was probably brought about because of their poverty and lack of any facilities for transportation, but more important was the fact that relatives became closely associated in those days, and these North families were composed of individuals whose family ties were great. This was also evidenced later after several had moved to America where all eventually came to live in the same locality.

Many of those who remained in England continued to live in the original area, and even today there are descendants of John and Mary North living at Long Sutton, Wisbech, Sutton St. James and Sutton Crosses.

EARLY FAMILIES IN AMERICA

In about 1840, Joseph North (17), son of our original ancestor, made a trip to America carrying a cargo of fruit trees which he had hoped to sell, but there is little additional about his trip except that he returned to England, penniless. But perhaps his stories about America imparted a spark of enthusiasm to his relatives.

A great exodus of English people to America was already in progress when the first of the Norths in this line left their homeland to seek permanent residence in that far-off land. The trip was certainly not an uncommon venture in the 1840's. Evidently the challenge of settling in America caught the spirit of two North brothers, James (124), age 26, and William (126), age 21, grandsons of our common ancestor, John North. Both had been raised on a farm near Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England, and were unmarried. With their savings these two men purchased passage and made the trip in 1845. They left London on June 1, 1845, and landed at Quebec, Canada, on July 13, 1845. Even though the ships of the day were partially propelled by steam, the voyage was long and hard. Many died on the boat during the six week's trip.

We have no information regarding the activities of these two brothers during the next several weeks after they landed on this continent. Soon, however, they arrived in the vicinity of Lawrenceburg, Indiana, a town at the extreme southern limit of the state on the north bank of the Ohio River. Records substantiate that they were there on November 29, 1845, and no doubt sooner.

Early in 1846 the United States became involved in a dispute with Mexico over the boundary between the two countries. On April 24, 1846, a force of Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande River and killed or captured a reconnoitering party of Americans. This act precipitated the Mexican War and President Polk asked Congress to order the enlistment of fifty thousand additional soldiers to the active army. Men were recruited across the country; and in all probability these two North brothers, having no permanent employment, found the army to their liking, for they had come from a country where military service was an important occupation, and several close relatives had had long army careers. We know that both volunteered in Indiana, at towns not far from Lawrenceburg. William volunteered June 18, 1846. Evidently James was not so pressed for employment, for he did not join until almost a year later - on May 28, 1847. Both served their stipulated year's service on the battle line in Mexico.

William was mustered out of service at New Orleans, Louisiana, on June 27, 1847, and some time later returned to England. On December 20, 1847, he married Miss Sarah Ann Green at Sutton St. James, Lincolnshire. Early in 1848 the couple left England for America and made their way to Lawrenceburg. In May of that year they were converted in the Lawrenceburg Methodist Episcopal Church under Father Eddy.

William's brother, James, did not complete his year of military duty until June 20, 1848, when he was mustered out of service at Madison, Indiana, not far from Lawrenceburg. William, of course, had already returned from England with his wife several weeks previous to that date. Thus, the two brothers were again united, and lived in the same area for the next five years.

Evidently William, during his visit to England, had told relatives of the many opportunities in this country for several made the trip to America in 1849 after they had learned that both James and William were "settled" at Lawrenceburg.

Among this group were two more brothers of James and William. They were John (121), his wife and three children, and Henry (123) and his wife. Probably the father of the four brothers, James (12), and his second wife came at this time too, for according to the census report he and his wife were in Lawrenceburg in 1850. Also making the trip in 1849 was a cousin of the four brothers, James (151). All left Liverpool, England, on October 8, 1849, landed in New York on October 28th, and went immediately to Lawrenceburg. Because passenger lists, both in England and America, were destroyed by fire, it has been impossible to gather other important data regarding their trip.

An unmarried sister of the above-mentioned four brothers, Sarah (122), came later. She was not in Lawrenceburg when the 1850 census was taken, and although she was there in 1855, we do not know the exact time she made the trip.

Early in 1850, after spending the winter in Lawrenceburg, John Jr. and Henry, and their families, left by way of the Ohio, Mississippi, and Illinois Rivers for Peoria, Illinois, and thence by land some 12 miles to the east, to Washington, Illinois. Why John and Henry went to Washington to live seems to be unknown, but there are two suppositions: they had friends or relatives there, or it was just another of the "new frontiers."

A Rufas North patented land near Washington on October 18, 1843, but was not of our line. He was born in Connecticut, and his wife, Catherine, in Kentucky, and they were in the Washington area before any of the Norths in our branch came to America. However, his brother Abijah lived 18 miles below Lawrenceburg at a point known as North's Landing, Indiana, when Norths in our line were living at Lawrenceburg. Perhaps the real reason for the Washington location of our relatives will never be known, but their trip did set the later pattern for other relatives.

Washington was one of the first prairie towns in Illinois. The village was organized in 1825. At that time the prairies were a vast, uninhabited plain. The first settlers thought and said that anyone who ventured to live on them would freeze to death. David Kindig, an early Washington settler, wrote the following about the area:

> "..... in 1850 I broke prairie with four yoke of oxen to one plow. In those days we would steal our timber for rails from Uncle Sam. Everyone would steal in Illinois. I have even known preachers to steal. I built a log house of split logs. I daubed it with black mud. When the winds would blow and the rains descend, the mud would wash off and drip on the floor inside. In 1835 I bought 80 acres of prairie land for $3 an acre....."

There were few families in the Washington area in 1850; cabins were widely scattered. Everyone traveled by horseback; and a good horse was worth $50 - quite a sum in those days. Peoria was the nearest town of any consequence, yet there was no bridge across the Illinois River; those from Washington could reach it only be crossing on the ferry barge.

The North families settling near Washington probably lived north of town, for it is known they often visited in Metamora, only eight miles to the north. However, the northern boundary of Tazewell County is midway between the two towns; and as the Norths lived in Tazewell County, their homes could not have been very far from Washington.

John and Henry, and their families, were listed in the Washington, Tazewell County, census of 1850. Although the census report showed that both John and Henry had real estate at that time, it is doubtful if either of them - or other Norths in our group - actually owned land near Washington. At that time the enumerator probably included rented and share-cropped property as "real estate." A check of the deeds and titles recorded during the period they lived in this region has failed to show that any were given to the Norths in this genealogy who we know resided there. The supposition would be that these Norths who lived near Washington rented small farms or share-cropped them.

Also landing in America on October 28, 1849, was a cousin of the four brothers, James (151), a single man. According to legend, he set foot in this country with but a single dollar. He made his way to Lawrenceburg, worked at various jobs in the vicinity for some time, and was finally employed by a Mr. Tousey, a Lawrenceburg banker, who owned a farm. The records show that James joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Lawrenceburg in 1850. It is also known that he made one trip to Washington, Illinois, prior to 1852 to visit cousins, then back to Lawrenceburg, where he stayed until 1855.

In 1852, James's father, Henry (15), came to this country with his second wife, the former Sarah Pridham. They made their way to Lawrenceburg where they remained a short time, then journeyed to Washington, Illinois, to visit nephews. After staying there a few weeks, and after spending the Fourth of July in Metamora, Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. North started back to Lawrenceburg by steamboat. They had expected to set up a home in Lawrenceburg, but suddenly the scene changed, for Mr. North died of cholera on the boat. Mrs. North went on to Lawrenceburg to live with a step-son, James.

In 1854, the Norths living at Lawrenceburg began to leave in order to settle closer to the Norths who were living at Washington. On August 13, 1854, William (126), one of the first two Norths in this line to come to America, purchased land near Kappa, Illinois, a new prairie town about twenty miles east of Washington. William did not move his family from Lawrenceburg until the spring of 1855, shortly after his third child was born. They were still in Lawrenceburg in March of 1855, when the three children were baptized. William's father, James (12), came to Kappa at the same time. We have no record that James's wife ever resided at Kappa so we may presume she died at Lawrenceburg. James Jr. (124) left Lawrenceburg soon afterward, and also purchased land near Kappa.

James (151), mentioned earlier as working for Mr. Tousey, left Lawrenceburg for Washington in 1855. He drove a freighting team between Peoria and Washington for several years. In 1856 he married Miss Sarah Bloodworth at Washington, and their first child was born there. In 1858 James, too, purchased land northeast of Kappa.

Henry (123), one of the first Norths to settle near Washington, purchased land near Kappa on March 25, 1854, and moved there. On April 2, 1855, John (121), who also was the first to settle at Washington, secured acreage near Kappa. The price paid for this virgin land was usually $4 to $6 per acre, a figure almost unbelievable in view of today's values of $500 and higher.

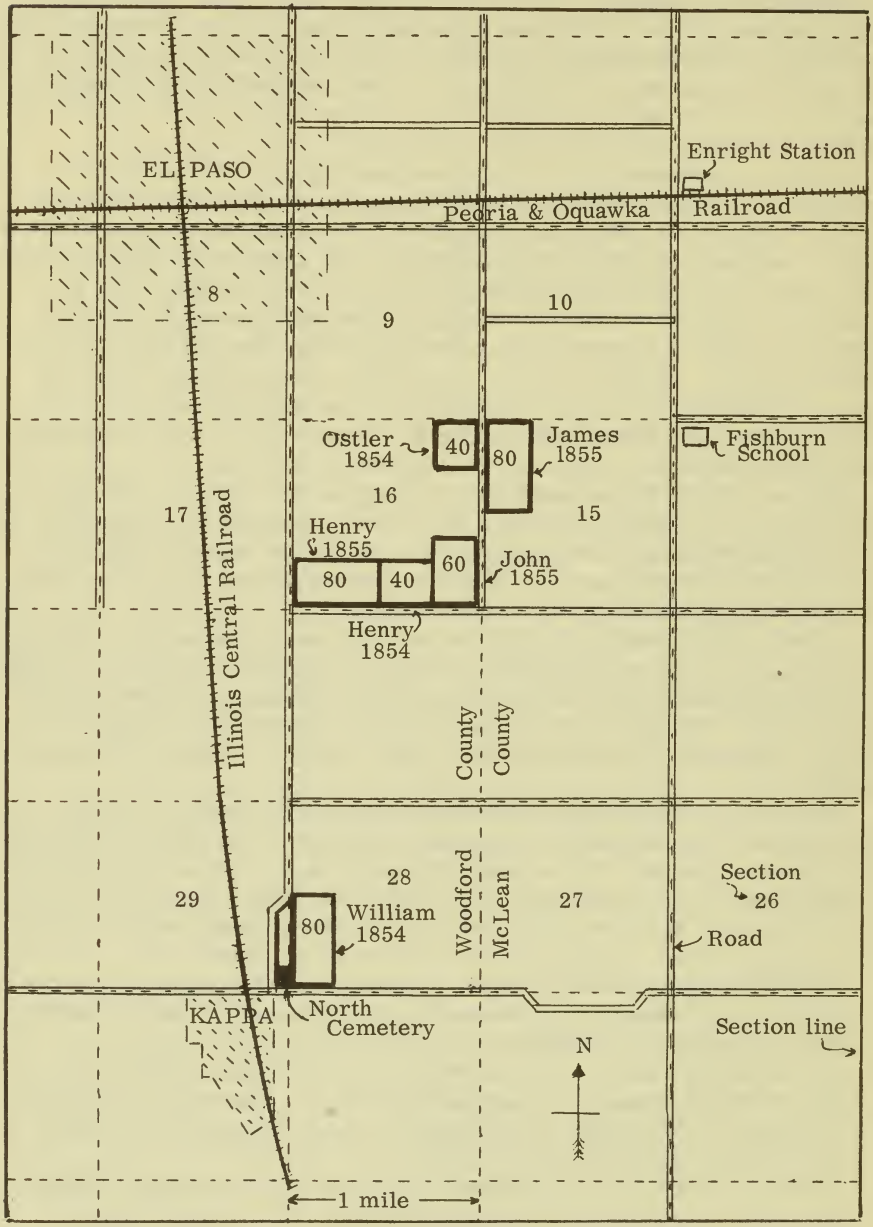
Sarah North (122), sister of the four brothers who came to America, was the only mature female, blood-line North to come to this country during this early period. She made the trip prior to the exodus of the Norths from Lawrenceburg, and eventually located near Kappa, where she probably lived with one of her four brothers. In 1855 she married William Ostler, Kappa farmer, but she died there the following year.

It was several years before another North in this line came to America. William (153), brother of James mentioned above, and his wife and family, came first to Toronto, Canada, in 1872; later, in 1875, to Kappa.

In 1887 another cousin, Joseph (173), his wife and three grown sons, made the trip to America and settled in Chicago. Later they moved to El Paso, Illinois, four miles north of Kappa. It was Joseph who recorded some of the early history of our family.

Isabella North (1711) came later when she married her cousin, Joseph North (1731), son of the above-mentioned Joseph (173).

NORTH'S FIRST LAND PURCHASES NEAR KAPPA, ILL.
(and later landmarks)



Thus, throughout the early years, eleven adult Norths made their way to America. Two were in the second, eight in the third, and one in the fourth generation. In addition, several wives and children accompanied them; and the entire group represented twenty-seven individuals.

Family ties were strong in those days. Although separated during their first years in America, eventually all made their way to Kappa. This North group, along with a few other families from England, made up a rudimentary "settlement" northeast of Kappa. In fact, the early wagon trail which led from farm to farm was known as "North Lane," or English Lane."

These Norths who came to America were truly pioneers. They were poor, but their courage more than made up for their poverty. At Lawrenceburg and Washington each was saving so that some day he could purchase a farm, the ultimate of an English agriculturist. The sites they eventually purchased near Kappa were of virgin soil, and their harships continued. Homes had to be built, wells dug, land cleared, and crops planted. A few acres uder cultivation at the end of the first year were the result of a major effort.

William North (126) was the only North to settle on timber land in the Kappa section. Others purchased their homesites a short distance to his north; and this was strictly prairie area. In those days there was a great deal of discussion as to whether it was easier to clear the timber and brush, or drain the water from the large flat sloughs which characterized the prairies.

The town of Kappa was named by the Illinois Central Railroad Company. The tenth letter of the Greek alphabet was used because the village was the tenth town planned between Dunleith, now East Dubuque, and Bloomington, Illinois. A railroad section house was built at Kappa in 1852, and a warehouse in 1853. Although the first home had been built in the Kappa area in 1833, long before the first Illinois Central train moved through Kappa on May 16, 1853, there had been practically no development of the area when the Norths settled at the site in 1855. The prairie grass was nine feet high; homes were many miles apart. The tall grass would catch fire, and these prairie fires constituted one of the greatest fears of the early settlers. The flames, whipped by the fierce prairie winds, would burn over hundreds of acres in a few minutes. There were no roads; and during the rainy season, cross-country trails became almost impassable. Lowland swamps characterized many areas. The winters were cold and bitter - their first year, 1855-56, especially so. Snow did not thaw in the wagon tracks for seven weeks that year; life for these early settlers was merely a matter of survival.

But "Illinois Central land" was in demand. Rails offered not only another means of inland travel, but also a means of transportation for farm products. The Kappa-El Paso section is now the center of the great American grain belt, so the decision of the Norths to settle there was a wise one. The land is some of the finest in the mid-western states.

When the Illinois Central Railroad Company pushed its tracks south, a town was platted every seven or eight miles, and when the tracks were laid in the area in 1853, the towns of Minonk, Panola, and Kappa had been already dedicated. Consequently, when the Norths located near Kappa, the railroad was in use, towns were laid out, and Kappa had two railroad buildings.

Not long after the Illinois Central Railroad Company was in operation, the Peoria and Oquawka Company was considering another line of tracks from Peoria eastward, but the route was long in being determined. It was not until 1856, a year after the Norths had settled in the Kappa area, that the new rails crossed the Illinois Central route four miles north of Kappa, at a place where no town was contemplated by the Illinois Central engineers. This crossing of the tracks was the site of a new village, El Paso.

This important crossing meant El Paso, served by two railroads, was destined to become the most important town in the area. This was a factor so far as the Norths were concerned, for, as families of new generations appeared and started farming, land purchases were nearer El Paso where their spiritual and economic lives were to become centered.

RELIGION IN AMERICA

Religion played an important part in the lives of the Norths who first came to America. Of those who maintained residence at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, between 1847 and 1855, all joined the Methodist Episcopal church there. Besides the several adults who were members three children of William North (126) were baptized there in 1855, just before William and his family moved to Illinois.

John (121) and Henry (123), first Norths in this line to settle at Washington, Illinois, pledged their faith to the Baptist church there. Thus we see that there was a division of religions here in America. However, the same ideals were, for the most part, maintained in their new homeland as had been followed in England. Although we, in this day, might think such a division was unusual in a strange and newly settled land, at a time when there were no churches or ministers, and services were confined to "classes" held in homes, stores, and schoolhouses, their English pledges were evidently very strong.

John (121) was a member of the General Baptist Church of Tydd St. Giles, Cambridgeshire, before coming to America. Just what type of church this was is unknown. There is no organized Baptist group there today, the nearest being at Long Sutton. But at that time many were leaving the Church of England, and evidently small groups formed their own church with the help of travelling ministers. John and his brother, Henry (123), who more than likely was also a member of the same church, helped organize a Baptist church at Kappa. John's faithfulness to the Baptist theme was probably prompted by the fact that he had been a Baptist deacon in England, and he and his brother, Henry, had maintained the Baptist faith while living at Washington. Also in the Baptist group at Kappa was their father, James (12), who had joined with the Methodists in Lawrenceburg. He supported the Baptist group when he moved to Kappa, although he did not actually remove his membership from the Lawrenceburg Methodist Church. When the town of El Paso was established and began to outgrow the Kappa community, James was the first to help establish a union Sunday school in El Paso, in March of 1857, under Rev. Frost, Presbyterian minister. John was the town's first Sunday school teacher, and continued as superintendent for many years. The school was organized in the freight house, just built by the Illinois Central Railroad Comapny.

Other Norths settling near Kappa maintained their Methodist religion, which they had pledged at Lawrenceburg and held at Washington, and they were among those who helped organize a Methodist church at Kappa. Such a "class" was begun in 1855 with ten members, of which William North (126), and his wife, were two. This was the same year that William and his family moved to Kappa. The "class" first held meetings in the railroad depot and later in the schoolhouse.

When the Peoria and Oquawka railroad tracks crossed the Illinois Central route at El Paso in 1856, churches began to form there, and El Paso gave promise of becoming a greater religious center than Kappa. However, the Kappa Methodist group held together, and several years later, after many churches had been built in El Paso, a group of Kappa Methodists met at the home of William North (126) on February 11, 1874, and passed a resolution to build a Methodist Episcopal church building in Kappa. William North had been given an exhorter's license in the Methodist church in 1859, and "Father North," as he was known, was a main contributor to the church fund. The building was completed later in 1874, and records show it cost $2400. All but $350 was raised by subscription, and James North (124) loaned $100 on the deficit, at the then prevailing interest rate of ten per cent.

The Kappa Methodist Episcopal Church was actually a partnership arrangement between the Kappa Methodist Episcopal group and the Evangelical association, and the church was for the use of itinerant ministers of both conferences. But when Rev. North dedicated the church he did so in the name of the Methodists only - and this became a touchy subject for some time thereafter. And it followed that neither had a resident minister during its existence.

The Kappa Methodist group remained fairly intact until a strong Methodist church grew in El Paso, when many transferred their membership. The Evangelicals withdrew in 1922-23, but the Methodist group continued. After a long period of service, the Kappa church burned to the ground on July 4, 1941, and was not rebuilt.

Rev. William North (126), whose farm was just outside the village of Kappa, and who had moved there in late March or early April of 1855, soon realized the importance of a North burial ground. A small corner of his property was on a rolling hill and isolated from the rest of his land by a small creek. This was the area Rev. North designated for a cemetery for the Norths, but which was later made available to all members of the Kappa community, and was then named the "Kappa Cemetery."

William North's sister, Sarah (North) Ostler (122), and her newborn infant daughter died on April 18, 1856, and became the first Norths to be interred there when they were buried together.

Rev. William North reserved a large area on the highest knoll for his immediate family; and he and his wife were buried there later, after many others in our family had been laid to rest there. Sarah (North) Ostler was buried several feet to the north of this area.

On October 20, 1856, Mary E. North (1216), daughter of William's brother, John (121), died at the age of eight months, and was buried midway between the Sarah Ostler grave and the area William had reserved. The next burial was that of William's daughter, Mary (1262), who died May 31, 1857, age, four years.

Just south of the William North lot is the Jones lot, and the headstone for William Jones (who lived across the road) shows that he died on April 7, 1856, eleven days before Sarah (North) Ostler. Evidently the cemetery was available to others at an earlier date.

The Kappa Cemetery, though small, is beautifully kept and still used by many families. A nearby landmark for a good many years was the board walk built in 1890, which led from Kappa to the cemetery, but which has long rotted away.

A great many of the early Norths who lived in the Kappa area were buried in the Kappa Cemetery; most of those in later years were laid to rest in the El Paso Evergreen Cemetery.

As so many in this line later worshipped in El Paso as Baptists, it seems important that we mention the early history of this group. The El Paso Baptist Church was organized on January 21, 1858. Rev. William Branch helped organize the church, and at first the group held meetings in various homes.

The first Norths to become members were John (121) and Henry (123), and their wives - all being received on "experience" from the Kappa Baptist Church in December, 1858. The records for the El Paso group show the following entry for February 12, 1859:

> It was voted to receive the communion service used by the Kappa church if it can be donated without reservations.

On October 1, 1859, the organization rented Crawford's Hall at Second and Cherry streets for six months at $5 monthly. From 1860 to 1862 the El Paso and Panola Baptist churches were served by one pastor, Rev. S. F. Stimson; but in 1862, the El Paso group decided to contribute his entire salary of $600 annually.

In 1864 a frame church, 40 by 60 feet, of Gothic architecture, was built on the southwest corner of Cherry and Second streets. It cost approximately $6,000, including the bell and furnace, and was dedicated in December of 1865. In 1884 an addition to the church costing approximately $2500 was built to provide space for Sunday school classes.

The old structure was razed in 1911 and the present building of terra cotta and brick was erected at a cost of $18,250. Among those who served on the building committee was Omer North (1512). The new building was dedicated on April 13, 1912.

AT EL PASO, ILLINOIS

Many others in this line have held important posts in the El Paso Baptist Church. William North (1511) was Sunday school superintendent and teacher of the adult men's class, and his sons, Paul (1511 6) and Ralph (1511 1), were superintendents of the Sunday school for many years. Claude North (1513 1) and Charles North (1514) were deacons; John North (1212 4), a member of the finance committee, and many others served important positions in the early years.

EL PASO AND THE NORTHS

Nothing but prairie grass and one tiny cottonwood sprout stood at the future site of El Paso when the Norths settled at Kappa. But where the Peoria and Oquawka Railroad crossed the Illinois Central tracks, El Paso was platted, and, served by two railroads, became a booming prairie town. Today only 150 residents are to be found in Kappa, while El Paso is a town of over 2000 inhabitants.

Gradually the prairie was settled. The ground was turned with a crude sod breaker, often pulled by oxen. Wheat was the predominant early crop; the seed was broadcast by hand, covered by hand, and harvested by hand. All of this back-breaking labor required many hours in the fields, and the early settlers worked from dawn to sun-down during the summer months.

The spring rains would fill the lower areas of the rolling prairie, and these ponds would often drown out the crops before the water filtered into the soil. Farmers soon learned to tile their prairie land however, and the water drained away more rapidly.

The women were probably more courageous than the men. Hardships were untold; many died during the first years because they could not withstand the hardships of pioneer living. Not only did they care for their homes and families, but the women spent countless hours in the fields and doing the farm chores.

Following the bitter cold winter of 1855-56, it became evident that the early cabins were not adequate, and they were gradually replaced with more permanent homes. The new Peoria and Oquawka Railroad brought lumber, hardware, stoves, and other necessities to make living more comfortable.

Local transportation was difficult. There was only a choice between a wagon and horseback, and although roads were soon laid out on the section lines, the heavy rains made them impassable a great part of the year. Shortcuts and detours formed many early trails. Children walked miles across the prairie to one-room, country schools.

El Paso became the center of the area and stores, hotels, schools, and churches were soon built. But the original North settlers remained close to their first land locations near Kappa. The acquisition of neighboring acres to enlarge the size of their farms was the most pronounced change. But soon the next generation was ready to purchase land - not virgin soil, but farms which were already under cultivation. Sarah North (1211), the first child of John and Rebecca (Ratcliffe) North, married Edward Tipler in 1863, and the next year the couple acquired 80 acres of land one and one-miles east of El Paso, to become the first in the fourth generation to purchase a farm in the El Paso area.

Quickly others in our line followed the pattern and found their homesites on farms in this area. Family after family in the fourth and following generations secured their farms. No other group in the locality had so many in the agricultural business. More than 150 families in this genealogy have maintained permanent residence on farms near El Paso.

Most of the early business buildings in the town of El Paso were built on the north side of a street that paralleled and was adjacent to the Peoria and Oquawka Railroad right-of-way. For a time walks were only paths along the stores, but El Paso was favored with a board walk in 1865. In 1869, hitching racks were installed along Front Street in front of the store buildings, and many feet of these remained until as late as 1915.

Mud made the streets almost impassable in the early spring, and in the summer and fall the dust was almost as deep.

Much of the farmland surrounding El Paso was so level and flat that there was poor natural surface drainage of water. In southeast El Paso some 20 acres were continually under water. Another pond was found just north of El Paso, and east of the Illinois Central railraod. This was later a part of the Omer North (1512) farm. There were many others - large and small, but they were soon drained by tiling.

Oil street lights were installed in El Paso in 1890, but electricity was generated soon afterward - in 1891 - in a home-operated plant.

A series of costly fires plagued the downtown section of El Paso. The first was on October 10, 1882, when a large section was wiped out. On April 30, 1890, another occurred; and still another on August 15, 1893. But the blaze that started on July 19, 1894, caused a loss of over $250,000 and almost completely razed an entire block of the business section. About 40 business establishments, including the S. H. North (1217) Implement Company, burned to the ground. It was El Paso's worst fire. Soon after, however, a new water tower was authorized by the city council, of which Omer North (1512) was a member, and conflagrations were less serious.

Storms have struck crippling blows to the El Paso area. The cyclone of May 13, 1858, did much damage to farm buildings owned by the Norths and others. Snowdrifts covered fences in 1898, 1918, and again in 1920. The cold winters of 1855-56 and 1935-36 saw the frost go 40 inches into the ground. A severe downpour of eight inches of rain occurred on the night of August 18-19, 1924. Bridges, railroads, roads, and crops were washed away with a terrific economic loss.

Many in our line served as officials of the city of El Paso in the early days. Spencer North (1217), Omer North (1512), and Edmund North (1214 4) were city councilmen. William North (1511) served as justice of the peace. Many others have played important parts in the growth and life of El Paso, and their contributions cannot be forgotten.

Thus, as in England, the Norths in this country confined their activities to one small section - the El Paso-Kappa area. In England it was the south-east Lincolnshire area. From these two "homes" of our North family, we are now scattered to almost every corner of the globe.

FIRST GENERATION

1--JOHN NORTH 1746-1791 probably was born in the region of Boston, Lincolnshire, England, about 1746. We are basing this supposition on the fact that his grandchildren had knowledge of his birth in the Boston area. However, a check of the parish registers of Boston and Skirbeck, a suburb of Boston, has failed to reveal any baptism of a John North during that period.

The Diocesan Bishop's transcripts have also been searched for Boston entries of all with the name of North, but as in the case of the originals at Boston, no record of the baptism of a John North about 1746 was found. Nor is there a John North baptismal entry in the records of Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, the birthplace of his children. The same holds true for Tydd St. Giles, Sutton St. James, and Long Sutton, other parishes in the same area in which the registers have been scrutinized.

There were several other North families living in Lincolnshire during the middle of the eighteenth century, and more were recorded in the parish records during the preceeding century. These are all listed in the chapter, "OUR COMMON ANCESTOR."

Boston was not a large town at that time, and as the name of North was not common in England, it would seem possible that at least some of these families were of common origin.

John North, when about 33 years of age, married MARY SHARP in about 1779. His first child was born in July, 1780. His death, recorded at Tydd St. Mary in 1791, gave his age as 45. Thus, his married life had a span of but 12 years.

No record of the marriage has been found, but the early Boston parish records show the baptisms of two "Mary Sharps." One was the daughter of Samuel Sharp, baptized on April 12, 1750. But as the name "Samuel" was not chosen for any of the children of John and Mary North, there is doubt that this was the wife of John North.

Another Mary Sharp was baptized at Boston on February 14, 1763, the daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Sharp. However, she is not to be considered as the future wife of John North because of her youthful age.

Also in the Boston records is the entry for the marriage of George

Sharp (widower) and Ann Ely (widow) on January 22, 1750, indicating the name of Sharp was not uncommon in the area.

At Tydd St. Mary, on March 13, 1744, Elizabeth Sharp, daughter of Edmund and Mary Sharp, was baptized. Mary Sharp, wife of John North, was born about 1748, thus there is a possibility that Elizabeth and Mary Sharp could have been sisters, but this thought does not seem too exciting. Edmund was not used as the given name of any Norths in the first three generations after John North. But the name, Mary, was given to the second daughter of John and Mary North. More likely, however, Elizabeth Sharp and Mary Sharp were cousins.

Further evidence that Mary Sharp was the wife of John North was substantiated at the time of the baptism of their children at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, when John North and Mary (Sharp) North were listed in the parish records as the parents.

The exact wording of these parish records is as follows:

1780 July 23 Catharine, dr. of John and Mary North
1782 Oct. 29 James, son of John and Mary North
1784 April 22 Mary, daughr of John North and Mary (Sharp), his wife
1786 Jany. 13 John, son of John North and Mary (Sharp), his wife
1788 March 14 Henry, son of John and Mary (Sharp), his wife
1790 July 25 William, son of John North, shepherd, and Mary (Sharp), his wife
1791 Decr. 7 Joseph, son of John North, shepherd, and Mary (Sharp), his wife

After their marriage in about 1779, Mr. and Mrs. North settled near Tydd St. Mary, where they resided for the remainder of their married life. Here their entire family was born and raised. According to his grandson, Mr. North was engaged there by John Stanger, Esq., as a shepherd. Furthermore, the above baptismal records of the children of John North show that he was a shepherd at that time.

John North died at the age of 45, several months prior to the birth of his last child. The Tydd St. Mary parish record shows the following entry in the burial records:

1791 Apr. 23 John North, shepherd, age 45

There is no doubt that Mr. and Mrs. North were of meager means; he undoubtedly was born poor, and died poor. But evidently he was of fine quality and made an excellent employee, for the story is that he was employed by Mr. Stanger for a great number of years - probably until his death. That the family stayed together - even after the death of the father, would indicate that both the parents were good providers, within the realm of their income. To raise a family in those days was no small accomplishment, and we may presume that John and Mary were more than ordinary in this respect.

John and Mary North were the parents of seven children - two daughters and five sons - born between 1780 and 1791. Birthdates were not recorded in the early days in England; the only available records are those written when church baptism occurred. This was usually shortly after birth, so for all practical purposes, the dates are comparable. Similarly, burials, rather than deaths, were recorded.

There is a slight possibility that there was another child born to John and Mary North, which would have been their first. There is a Tydd St. Mary parish record showing the following:

1795 Nov. 2 Elizh (Elizabeth) North, who dropped down and expired almost immediately, age 17

The year of Elizabeth's birth would have been about 1778, an easy possibility as the first child of John and Mary North. However, Joseph North (173) did not mention her. Her birth is not recorded at Tydd St. Mary. Thus, she would have been born elsewhere. However, there was at least one other North family living at Tydd St. Mary at the time John North resided there.

Of the seven children, only four - all men - grew to maturity and had issue.

In all probability Mary North remarried in 1789. In the Tydd St. Mary Parish is the following record of marriage:

1789 June 25 Jacob Harley (widower)
and Mary North (widow)
Witnesses: Mary Hildreth
William Henson

Mary North would have been 48-50 years of age. Although John North (173) did not mention this marriage, he was also very vague regarding other early details.

No record of the death of Mary North has been found, but it is known that she lived with a son, Joseph (17) at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, in later years, and lived to the age of about eighty. Neither has there been a finding of the death of her second husband, JACOB HARLEY.

SECOND GENERATION

11--CATHARINE NORTH 1780-1781 (John) first child of John and Mary (Sharp) North, was born in 1780. Her baptism was recorded in the parish records of Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England, on July 23, 1780. She died in infancy in 1781 at the place of her birth. The parish record shows the following burial entry:

1781 Oct. 16 Catharine North, infant

12--JAMES NORTH 1782-1863 (John) first son and second child of John and Mary (Sharp) North, was born at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England, in 1782. His baptismal date was October 29, 1782, and was recorded in the parish books.

Further parish information shows that at the age of 27, on October 16, 1809, he married MARY WEST at Tydd St. Mary. His occupation at that time was given as "servant." Six children were born to this union, including one set of twins. According to the Tydd St. Mary parish records, Mrs. North died in 1824, shortly after the birth of her sixth child, William.

A further parish notation shows that James North was again married at Tydd St. Mary to SARAH SPEECHLY on October 30, 1824. At that time Mr. North's occupation was listed as "cottager." Sarah Speechly was born in 1782. The family later moved to Tydd St. Giles, Cambridgeshire. No children were born of this second marriage.

After two of his children by his first marriage had emigrated to America, James and his second wife, Sarah, followed them, and lived with his son, William, at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, for a few years. The Lawrenceburg, Dearborn County, census of 1850 (p. 516) lists James and Sarah North, both 69, as living in the home of his son William, on August 24, 1850, and in all probability they set foot in this country on October 28, 1849, when several Norths in this line landed here.

In 1855, when his sons moved to Kappa, Illinois, he went with them. Evidently Mrs. North died at Lawrenceburg. James was listed in the Woodford County, Illinois, census of 1860 - age 78 - but not Mrs. North, and we have found no record of her death at Kappa.

James North was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Lawrenceburg. Moreover, when he moved to Kappa he never removed his membership. In the records of the Lawrenceburg Methodist Church is the following:

> James North - an old man who lived in Illinois. Desires his name kept here. Sends his quarterage to his class leader.

No date is given for the entry, but it was about 1856. There is reason to believe that James was a member of the Baptist church in England (probably at Tydd St. Giles or Long Sutton). No doubt this prompted him to become one of the founders of a Baptist church in Kappa. In 1857 he was selected as superintendent of El Paso's first Sunday school. It was held in the freight house, then just built by the Illinois Central Railroad Company.

Mr. North died December 17, 1863, age 81, at Kappa, and was buried in the James North lot in the Kappa Cemetery.

13--MARY NORTH 1784-1810 (John) second daughter of John and Mary (Sharp) North, was born at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England, in 1784. She was baptized Arpil 22, 1784, in the same village, where the data are recorded.

According to Joseph North (173) she died young, unmarried. To further substantiate this is the entry in the Tydd St. Mary parish records showing that she was buried June 14, 1810, at the age of 26 years, and at that time was "Housekeeper to Rev. John Metcalf, Curator."

14--JOHN NORTH 1785-1814 (John) son of John and Mary (Sharp) North, was born at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England. His baptismal date, as recorded in the parish books, was January 13, 1786. Consequently, his birthdate was probably late in 1785.

He joined the British Army at the age of 20, and according to the files of the British Public Record Office (W. O. 12/763-768) he enlisted at Ipswich on November 28, 1805, for the 7th Dragoons, and was stationed in various parts of the British Isles during the next eight years. The records further show that he was promoted to the rank of corporal on April 6, 1812, embarked for the Spanish Peninsular on August 17, 1813, and was killed in action on February 27, 1814.

It is further known that he served in several engagements. He was wounded several times, once in his cheek, the gash so large he could smoke a tobacco pipe through it. He was among Wellington's forces which defeated Marshal Soult at the battle of Orthez, in southern France, February 27, 1814. In this battle Mr. North was killed when shot from his horse while crossing a ditch during the height of the engagement. It was in his 28th year that he died, unmarried.

15--HENRY NORTH 1788-1852 (John) was born to John and Mary (Sharp) North at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England. According to the parish records, he was baptized on March 14, 1788.

Henry North joined the British Army as a foot soldier and fought through several battles. In October, 1812, he was among the forces which encountered the Americans at Queenstown Heights. The British were successful in defeating the Americans after the Americans had originally taken the town, but only after they had been reinforced by some 600 men. Over 1000 of the American forces were lost.

A check of the muster rolls of the British Public Record Office has failed to reveal the exact detachment in which Henry served. Most of the British forces which took part in this action at Queenstown were members of the Royal Artillery, but he was not among this group. However, other details also engaged the Americans.

Later, after Napoleon's escape from Elba, Henry's regiment was called home. In 1815 he participated with Wellington's forces in the battle of Waterloo. After serving the army a long time, he was given an honorable discharge and a medal in commemoration of his services (War Records).

Mr. North went back to Lincolnshire, settled in Long Sutton, and learned gardening. At the age of 32, he married MARY SAINTY, age 27, at Long Sutton. The parish records give the date as May 16, 1820. Her birth was in 1793. Eight children were born to them - the first seven in Long Sutton. In about 1830 the family moved to Tydd St. Giles, Cambridgeshire. Here, according to the parish register, on March 16, 1831, Mr. North buried his wife at the age of 38, a few days after the birth of her eighth child, Robert, who died a month later.

The several children were left motherless, and were "bound out" to live with other families.

According to a further parish insertion of May 20, 1837, Mr. North, then 49, married SARAH PRIDHAM, age 32. She was born near Exeter, Devonshire, England, September 23, 1805. In 1840 she united with the Wesleyan Methodists in England.

In 1852 both came to America. They first stopped at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, where a son was living, then took boat passage to Washington, Illinois, to visit nephews and their families. In July of the same year, after attending a Fourth of July picnic at Metamora, Illinois, they started back to Lawrenceburg by steamboat where they had hoped to obtain assistance in securing a home. But suddenly the scene changed, for Mr. North was stricken with cholera and died on the boat. To prevent the spread of the disease, the boat stopped; and "at night, somewhere along the Ohio River, at the foot of a sycamore tree," he was buried. Mr. North was 64 years of age.

Mrs. North continued on to Lawrenceburg where she lived with her step-son, James. She spent most of her remaining days, both at Lawrenceburg and at Kappa, Illinois, with him and his family. To most folks she was known as "Old Auntie" or "Grannie." She died February 5, 1897, age 91, at the home of another step-son, William, at El Paso, Illinois, and was buried in the El Paso Cemetery in the James North (151) lot. No children were born of Henry North's second marriage.

At the age of 33 he married SARAH GEORGE at Long Sutton on May 28, 1824 (pr). They resided at Long Sutton where Mr. North was engaged in farming, and where he lived until 75 years of age. He died at Long Sutton, and the parish notations give the burial date as August 31, 1865.

Mrs. North survived him five years.

They were the parents of one child, a son, born at Long Sutton.

He became a gardener and seed man at Tydd St. Mary, but in 1818 moved to Long Sutton and continued the same occupation. Later, he operated an inn in Long Sutton called "The Crosspits," and later named the "Warren," and now is the home of a veterinary surgeon.

MRS. JOSEPH NORTH (17) AND DAUGHTER, MARY (174)

The Long Sutton parish registers show that at the age of 29 he married RACHEL SIMPSON on June 2, 1821. Six children were born of this marriage. It is also known that his mother, widowed prior to his birth, lived with him in her later years.

Joseph North tried to export fruit trees to America, and made a trip there in about 1840, taking with him a cargo of sapplings. Little is known about the trip except that it was a failure, and he arrived back in England, penniless, and almost destitute. His only story was, "the boat sank."

Mr. North lived to the age of 59; Mrs. North to 93. Both were buried at Long Sutton.

THIRD GENERATION

121--JOHN NORTH 1812-1864 (James, John) was born twin with his sister, Sarah, on November 4, 1812, at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England, to James and Mary (West) North. It was in the same locality that he spent his youth.

At the age of 24, on July 11, 1837, he married REBECCA RATCLIFFE at Tydd St. Mary. According to the parish records, he was a "servant" at the time. There is some confusion regarding the spelling of her family name. The final "e" occurs in the English records, but not in the American. Further parish notations show that she was the daughter of Joseph Ratcliffe, farmer, residing at Tydd St. Mary, who had died prior to her marriage. She was born March 4, 1818, and was married at the age of 19 years.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. North at Tydd St. Giles, Cambridgeshire, prior to the time they left England for America. Mr. North was 36 at the time. The family landed in New York on October 28, 1849, and went directly to Lawrenceburg, Indiana, where they spent the winter in the home of his brother, William. The following year they located near Washington, Illinois, in Tazewell County. They were listed in the Tazewell County census of 1850, along with their first three children. JohnNorth was recorded as a farmer at that time, with real estate valued at $1200. However, a check of the deeds and titles filed during that period has failed to show that they actually owned land in this vicinity.

After four years at Washington, the family moved to just inside the El-Paso Township line, near Kappa, Illinois, purchasing land on April 2, 1885, from Caleb and Elizabeth Horn, early settlers in the area. The recorded deed shows the purchase of the S 1/2 of Lot 9, being the S 1/2 of the NE 1/4 of the SE 1/4, and Lot 16, being the SE 1/4 of the SE 1/4, all in Section 16, Twp. 26N, containing 60. 15 acres. The consideration was $400 (Record H, page 443).

A further recorded warranty deed shows that this parcel of land was sold to his brother, James, for $600 on February 2, 1860 (Record 46, page 5). This was probably part of an exchange deal, as his brother sold him 40 acres of land across the road at the same time, after which Mr.

and Mrs. North moved to their new home.

Mr. North had a very good education in light of what the English schools offered at that time. He loved to sing, and as song books were expensive, and beyond his means, he obtained plain books, ruled them, copied the notes, and wrote the words. He served his church well. In England he united with the General Baptist Church of Tydd St. Giles, where he was asked to exhort and fill some of the vacant pulpits in the area. But a slight impediment in his speech caused him to desist. However, he was elevated to the high position of deacon.

In Kappa he helped organize a Baptist church, but when the town of El-Paso was settled four miles to the north of Kappa, the Kappa Baptist Church disbanded, and Mr. and Mrs. North became early members of the El Paso Baptist Church.

Mr. North was naturalized about 1850. He lived in the Kappa-El Paso area the rest of his life. When attending his father's interrment on December 20, 1863, he made the remark that it was so cold he would hate to be buried. Ironically enough, he contracted a cold that day, pneumonia developed, and he died two weeks later, on January 4, 1864, age 51, and was buried on an even colder day. Mrs. North died at the home of her son, James, December 14, 1902, age 84. Both were buried in the Kappa Cemetery.

122--SARAH NORTH 1812-1856 (James, John) was born twin with her brother, John, to James and Mary (West) North, on November 4, 1812, at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England. She too emigrated to America, but somewhat later than her brothers. However, we do not know the exact year. Her name does not appear in the 1850 census of Dearborn County, Indiana. There is information that she was in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, early in 1855, but left there soon afterward to live at Kappa, Illinois.

At Kappa she was married in 1855, in her forty-third year, within a few months after she located there, to WILLIAM OSTLER, who came to this country from England in 1851 and purchased land in the NE 1/4 of the NE 1/4 of Section 16, Twp. 26, from James Trotter Jr. on September 14, 1854. The consideration for the 40 acres was $125 (Record H, page 357).

Mr. Ostler wrote a brief diary about 1896, and it was published in the the El Paso Journal booklet commemorating El Paso's fiftieth anniversary. In part he wrote:

> "Left Liverpool, England, October, 1851. A fine passage of 28 days brought us to New York. From there I went to Chicago. Left there in May, 1852, for Washington, Illinois, where I stayed for three years. In the spring of 1855 came to a spot without a name 2 1/2 miles from present site of El Paso, having purchased 40 acres in 1854. In 1855 bought 40 acres from Wm. McClellan in Section 9 for $10 per acre and 20 acres of timber land on the Mcakinaw River for $€. 25 per acre of John Bodger..... Went to England in 1858, returning the next spring."

There is no doubt that Mr. Ostler knew the Norths living in Washington, for he and the Norths were members of the Baptist church there. Thus, when Mr. Ostler moved to Kappa his early acquaintance with Sarah North would have been easily established.

Mrs. Ostler and her unnamed, infant son died April 19, 1856, and were buried together in the Kappa Cemetery, the first in our North line to be interred there.

Mr. Ostler lived in the same neighborhood for the rest of his life and was twice married after the death of his first wife. He and his second wife, Mary Morris, were the parents of John William Ostler, who married Ida Bailey (1215 3), another in this line.

123--HENRY NORTH 1816-1891 (James, John) was born to James and Mary (West) North at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England, on May 30, 1816. According to the parish records, at the age of 31, he married MARY HITCH, age 44, the daughter of Edward Hitch, at Tydd St. Mary, on June 12, 1847. He was listed as a "cottager" at that time. She was born July 22, 1802, at Walsoken, Norfolk, England, and was an only daughter.

With other Norths they landed in America on October 28, 1849, and after spending the winter near Lawrenceburg, Indiana, made their way to Tazewell County, Illinois, near Washington. Both were listed in the 1850 census, with real estate valued at $200. Deeds recorded during that time do not show however, that they actually owned land there.

On March 25, 1854, Henry North purchased 40. 1 acres of land near Kappa from the State of Illinois (Deed Index) described as the SW 1/4 of the SE 1/4, Section 16, Twp. 26. On February 16, 1855, he purchased an additional 80. 18 acres from Jesse and Ruah Hammers (Record I, page 106), described as Lots 13 and 14, Section 16, in Township 26, being the

S 1/2 of the SW 1/4 of said section. The purchase price was $500.

Mr. and Mrs. North, along with other "English Lane" settlers, helped organize the Kappa Baptist Church. Mrs. North had originally united with the Baptist group in England in 1838. The El Paso Baptist Church record of December, 1858, states:

> Bretheren John (121) and Henry North and their wives were received on experience, the church at Kappa, with which they were connected, having disbanded.

In 1865, Mr. North retired from farm work and moved to El Paso. He died of stomach catarrh on January 4, 1891, age 79. He suffered greatly during his last hours, "but he bore the pain of composure and died trusting in the Lord and his Savior." (El Paso Journal)

Mrs. North died on December 15, 1891, age 89. They had no children of their own, but adopted a daughter, Alice, who married Frank Allen in 1899.

124--JAMES NORTH 1819-1886 (James, John) was born to James and Mary (West) North at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England, on July 26, 1819. In 1845, at the age of 26, he came to this continent with his brother William. Both left London on June 1, 1845, and landed in Quebec on July 13, 1845, after a voyage of six weeks, and were the first in this line to permanently come to America.

James soon located at Lawrenceburg, Indiana. It is known that he was there in the spring of 1846. His military record, on file with the War Department, shows he was a "servant-farmer" at Lawrenceburg.

When Congress asked for military volunteers during the Mexican War, he entered the United States Army as a private (foot soldier) and spent a year's term. Perry's "Indiana in the Mexican War" and his widow's application for pension, on file with the War Department, relate that he joined the 4th Regiment, Company C, of the Indiana Volunteer Infantry. He was mustered in on May 28, 1847, at Old Fort Clark at Jeffersonville, Indiana. The unit of 2553 men boarded steamboats for New Orleans on July 7, 1847. From New Orleans they sailed for Brazos Island, then to Vera Cruz, Mexico, landing on September 16th, after a three-day trip by sea. Next they left for Mexico City on September 18th, a dangerous march of 270 miles; and they fought the entire distance.

James was mustered out of service with an honorable discharge (a copy of which is a part of my files) on July 20, 1848, at Madison, Indiana. James's entrance into the service was almost a year after his brother's.

It is interesting to note that a Van V. Tousey entered the service the same day, in the same company, and later this name of "Tousey" is mentioned as the employer of James's cousin, another James (151). Although undoubtedly not the same individual - but perhaps a father-and-son relationship - the incident could serve as a means of fitting together some of the early events in the lives of the Norths who lived in the Lawrenceburg area.

On April 28, 1855, James, still single made his way to the Kappa area where he purchased a farm. It may be described as 80 acres - the W 1/2 of the NW 1/4 of Sec. 15, Twp. 26, in McLean county - and purchased for $600 (County record).

The north half (40 acres) he sold in 1856 to James North (151); and the south half (40 acres) in 1862 to John North (121) (County record).

At the age of 37, he married MARY ANN BALL, age 21, on March 14, 1857, at Peoria, Illinois (from War Department record of widow's application for pension). She was born in Sheffield, England, February 7, 1836. In 1856, when she was 20 years old, she came to the Kappa area. Mr. and Mrs. James North and their two children were listed in the 1860 census of Woodford County as follows:

> James - age 40, real estate, $1800, personal, $350. Mary A. - age 24; Emma - age 2; Clara - age 8 mos.

On February 2, 1860, James purchased the above-mentioned 60.15 acres from his brother, John, for $600, being located in Section 16, Twp. 26, described as the S 1/2 of Lot 9, being part of the NE 1/4 of the SE 1/4, being the SE 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of said section (County record). Mr. and Mrs. North lived on this farm, located one mile east and one-half mile south of El Paso (later the Gibbs farm).

Because of his small stature, James was commonly known as "little Jimmie." His War Department record shows he was but five feet, two inches tall.

Mr. North died of a heart attack on December 27, 1886, age 67, and was buried in the Kappa Cemetery. Mrs. North was 51, and after the death of her husband, she made her home with her daughter, Clara, in Roodhouse, Illinois, and later with another daughter, Emma, at Bloomington, Illinois. She died at Bloomington on September 21, 1907, age 71, and was buried in the Kappa Cemetery. Both Mr. and Mrs. North were members of the Methodist church.

126--WILLIAM NORTH 1824-1903 (James, John) was born to James and Mary (West) North at Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, England, on March 30, 1824. He spent his youth on a farm in the area north of Tydd St. Giles, Cambridgeshire, but in Lincolnshire.

In 1845, at the age of 21, he came to America with his brother, James

They were the first in this line to make the trip. A check of the Dearborn Circuit Court records at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, where William eventually located, revealed that he filed a declaration of intention to apply for naturalization on November 29, 1845. At that time he stated:

> "I was born in England on March 30, 1824, and emigrated from the port of London on June 1, 1845, and arrived at the port of Quebec on July 13, 1845."

This is not only the earliest record of our North family found in America, but is important because it defines the date of the arrival on this continent of the first in our family.

The ocean trip took William six weeks - a long time, even in those days. Many died on the boat. There is no information regarding the decision to go to Quebec; perhaps it was the most economical voyage at that time.

Soon after landing at Quebec, both William and his brother left, and a few weeks later located at Lawrenceburg, Indiana. They were there on November 29, 1845, when the above declaration was filed. How they got to Lawrenceburg, or why they went there, is unknown. Here, William was a "farmer-day-labourer" (from War record).

Several months later William volunteered as a private (foot soldier) for Mexican War military service. A check of the War Department records revealed that he was a member of Company K, Third Regiment, of the Indiana Volunteer Infantry. The unit was commonly known as the "Dearborn Volunteers." The War Department records further show that William was mustered into service on June 18, 1846, age 22, at New Albany, Indiana. Company K first camped on Jackson Battle Ground, arriving in July, then crossed the Gulf and landed at Port Isabel. Mr. North was next at Camp Balnapp on the Rio Grande for two months, then to Camp Clarke on October 31, 1846, and later at Metamoras for several weeks. On December 24, 1846, his company entered General Zachary Taylor's camp four miles south of Monterrey, and from December 31st it was quartered near Saltillo, Mexico.

Santa Anna, the Mexican commander-in-chief, had concentrated 20,000 of the finest men, including 6,000 cavaliers, and was pushing north to crush the American forces of less than 5,000. General Taylor had set up some regular units of his command six miles west of Saltillo on a Mexican hacienda called Buena Vista, situated between two mountain ranges.

February 23, 1847, was a cold day with the ground frozen hard. One could easily see the two long lines of men ready to face combat - the Mexicans on the south; the Americans on the north. William North and the Indiana Volunteers were in the center of the American line.

The battle was furious but the Mexicans were thrown back with every advance. Finally repulsed, the Mexicans withdrew their remaining troops, leaving their dead and wounded on the battlefield; and the day-long battle was over. The Mexicans lost over 4,000 men; the Americans, about 700. The victory was the turning point of the war, and the battle of Buena Vista proved to be the best-fought engagement.

REV. AND MRS. WILLIAM NORTH (126)

On February 28th, after fresh replacements moved to the front, William's unit returned to Agua Nueva, Mexico. William was mustered out of service with an honorable discharge (a copy of which is a part of my files) on June 27, 1847, at New Orleans, Louisiana, after the year's stipulated service.

Later the same year William, then 23, returned to England, and according to the parish records, on December 28, 1847, married SARAH ANN GREEN, age 24, at Sutton St. James, Lincolnshire. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Green, and was born in Fleet, Lincolnshire, England, October 4, 1823.

Early the next year - in 1848 - Mr. and Mrs. North came to America. The crossing was very rough; Sarah was ill throughout the voyage and was unable to continue their journey for several weeks after arrival. When she was able to travel their finances were nearly exhausted so William purchased a railroad ticket as far as their money would take them toward Lawrenceburg, Indiana, where he had lived previously. When they got off the train, and into the station, he knelt down beside his wife, almost too ill to sit up, and prayed for help. A few minutes later a strange gentleman came into the station as if in "answer to his prayers" and loaned William the money to continue to his destination.

Both Mr. and Mrs. North are listed in the 1850 census of Dearborn (Lawrenceburg, Indiana) County (p. 516), along with their daughters, "Sarah - age 10 months." Sarah, of course had been born in Indiana. Both Mr. and Mrs. North were listed as "age 26," and William's occupation at that time was given as "labourer."

According to the early Methodist Episcopal Church records of Lawrenceburg, the first three of their children were born there, the third on January 10, 1855. All three were baptized at Lawrenceburg in March of 1855. Mrs. North had united with the Baptist church early in life, but when her husband was converted at Lawrenceburg, she transferred her membership to the Methodist group.

On Aubust 13, 1854, William purchased land near Kappa, Illinois, but did not move his family from Lawrenceburg until late in March the following year, two months after their third child was born.

At Kappa the family settled on 80 acres of timber land one-half mile northeast of town, described as the W 1/2 of the SW 1/4, Section 28, Twp. 26. This they purchased for $987 from William Patton (Rec. H, p. 150). The farm was heavily wooded and William worked long hours to clear it. Many times he could be seen working at night under a lantern hung in a tree.

William North later purchased an additional 40 acres on November 18, 1863, for $960 (Rec. R, p. 175), 40 acres on June 15, 1869, for $560

(Rec. V, p. 672), and 40 acres on August 26, 1871, for $560 (Rec. 33, p. 312), all adjacent to his original purchase.

His military record shows he was granted 160 acres of "bounty land" in 1847, and three months "extra pay" in 1848 as the result of his Mexican war service. The bounty land is said to have been one mile north of the present Bloomington, McLean County, Illinois, Courthouse. After looking at it he found the ground so low and swampy it seemed to offer no possibilities, and he refused it . The land is now properly drained and is the center of part of the residential section of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. North were among the ten members who organized a Kappa Methodist group under Rev. Gregg. Mr. North was one of the first trustees of the newly organized church. The "class" first held meetings in the depot, then in the schoolhouse. In 1859 Mr. North received an exhorter's license in the Methodist church, and for many years preached and held meetings without number. He seemed always in prayer, not only in his church and his home, but often he could be heard praying aloud in the fields of his farm.

Reverend North was instrumental in getting a church building for the Methodist group in Kappa. He served on the building committee and became its main supporter (see chapter on RELIGION IN AMERICA).

In 1889 Reverend (Uncle Billy) and Mrs. North retired from farm life and moved to El Paso, Illinois, where they spent their remaining days. Rev. North died November 24, 1903, and was laid to rest on the highest knoll of the Kappa Cemetery, the ground of which was once a part of his farm. It was originally the North burial ground, but on April 10, 1884, almost 30 years after the first was interred there, he gave the north half of the present cemetery to the county, and on March 24, 1890, he sold the south half to the county for $60, and the cemetery was made available to all members of the Kappa community (From county records).

Mr. North died at the age of 79; Mrs. North died August 28, 1908, five years later, age 84. When Rev. North's estate was settled the farm was purchased by a son-in-law, James Thorpe.

151--JAMES (HENRY) NORTH 1821-1887 (Henry, John) was born in Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, to Henry and Mary (Sainty) North on March 14, 1821. The parish records show the baptismal date as March 23, 1821. The name, "Henry" was added later for convenience, since there were three "James Norths" living near Kappa, Illinois.

His mother died when he was ten years old, while the family lived at Tydd St. Giles, Cambridgeshire, and James was "bound out" to live with another family. Legend is that they were cruel to James, beating him often until he was black and blue.

On October 8, 1849, still single, and 20, he embarked for America at Liverpool, England, and landed in New York on October 28, 1849, with but one dollar in his pockets. Other members of the family had settled at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, and he made his way there. For some time he worked at various jobs in the nearby region, but not necessarily at Lawrenceburg proper. He was not in Dearborn County when the census was taken in 1850.

Sometime prior to 1852 he made a trip to Washington, Illinois, to visit cousins. He soon returned however, and worked as a farm hand for a Mr. Tousey, local banker, who owned a farm (see 124).

James took out his first citizenship papers at Lawrenceburg on October 7, 1852. These are now in the hands of his grandson, Paul North (1511 6), and because they substantiate several early dates, they are repeated here:

> James was a native of Lincolnshire, England - about 28 years old, and owes his allegiance to Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, and emigrated thence, embarked at Liverpool on the 8th day of October and arrived in New York, U. S. on 28th of October, 1849, and it is bona fide his intention to reside in and become a Citizen of United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign Prince, Potentate, State or Sovereign whatever, and particularly to Victoria, Queen of Great Britain.
> Recorded October 14, 1852, at Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Full citizenship was granted September 7, 1856, at Washington, Illinois.

In 1855 James made his way to Washington, Illinois, by river boat. Here he drove a freighting team between Washington and Peoria for a James Smith, a carpenter who constructed many buildings in the area.

On October 16, 1856, James, age 35, married SARAH ELIZABETH BLOODWORTH, age 24, at Washington. She was born near Tydd St. Giles, Cambridgeshire, England (probably in Lincolnshire), April 25, 1832, to William and Mary Anne (Howell) Bloodworth (pr). Although they lived within a short distance of each other in England, they had not met prior to

MR. AND MRS. JAMES NORTH (151) AND SONS,
LEWIS (1513), OMER (1512), WILLIAM (1511) AND CHARLES (1514)

coming to Washington. But the Bloodworths in England did know some of the other North families that moved to Illinois.

At the age of 20, she emigrated to America with her parents in 1851. When Sarah's sister resolved to come to America to marry her fiance who had already made the trip the entire Bloodworth family decided to leave England. The voyage was awesome. The crew mutinied and had to be beaten into submission. Only to add more to the unusual passage, Mr. Bloodworth, father of the group, took sick and died. Sharks followed the boat for days, but in spite of this, the body was finally "buried" at sea. The rest of the family came on to Washington to live.

Mr. and Mrs. North lived in Washington until 1858. Their first child, William, was born there in 1857. On February 25, 1856, James purchased 40 acres of land northeast of Kappa, Illinois, from his cousin, James North (124). It is described as the NW 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of Sec. 15, in McLean County (County records). James North did not move his family to the farm site until 1858. Here he lived until his death.

In 1850 Mr. North was converted and joined the Lawrenceburg Methodist Church (Church records), but when the family moved to near El Paso, all became faithful members of the El Paso Baptist Church.

Mr. North died at his farm home July 1, 1887. His eulogy in the El Paso Journal states in part:

> ..... and perhaps no member (of the El Paso Baptist Church) ever received more Christian sympathy and tender loving care from the pastor and members during his long illness than he did..... Among the 60 relatives that followed him to the tomb are many that recognize another important and cheering fact that the question of the American people is not where was the man born, but what was his life.

After Mr. North's death, Mrs. North moved to El Paso. She lived with her son, Omer, for several years and cared for his children after the death of their mother. Later, she maintained a home of her own - just across the street north of the El Paso Baptist Church.

Mrs. North died at El Paso at the home of another son, William, on March 26, 1921. age 88.

152--ANN NORTH 1822-1915 (Henry, John), was one of two daughters born to Henry and Mary (Sainty) North. She was born at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, and her baptism was recorded there on August 3, 1822. Her mother died when she was nine, and her father placed Ann in the home of another family. Later she was employed as a housekeeper.

She married THOMAS CHURCH at Reigate Parish Church on July 31, 1849. Ann, a spinster then, gave her address as Wray Park, Reigate. She was 27, but gave her age as 23, obviously hedging a little. Thomas Church, bachelor, gave his age as 23, with residence at Earlswood, Reigate, and the son of William Church, grocer (pr).

Later, the couple lived in Croyden, Surrey, near London. In late years they became helpless, and a nephew, William North (151l), sent Mrs. Church money from America until she was 90 years of age, when she received a dole from the government.

She died, childless, in Croyden in 1915, at the age of 92.

153--WILLIAM NORTH 1823-1907 (Henry, John) was born at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, in 1823, to Henry and Mary (Sainty) North. He was, according to the parish records, baptized "William North" on August 28, 1823, but added his mother's family name "Sainty" later to make his name William Sainty North.

After the death of his mother, when he was eight, he was placed in an orphanage called "The Union." At the age of fourteen, he was apprenticed to a shoemaker for whom he worked seven years. He then went to West Hackney (presently a suburb northwest of London) where, for the next twenty years, he made his home.

On July 1, 1850, at West Hackney, age 26, he married ANN BRANSDON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bransdon, a shoemaker of West Hackney. To them three children were born, one of whom died young. Mr. and Mrs. North lived at 7 High St., Stoke Newington, West Hackney, Middlesex (G. R.). Mrs. North died in 1857.

Mr. North was again married at Hackney in 1859 to ELIZABETH ANN FAWCETT. Six children were born to this union at West Hackney and Edmonton. Three died of scarlet fever within a single month - in the fall of 1869, at Edmonton.

The remaining family came to Toronto, Canada, in 1872. In September, 1874, another child, Clara, age seven, was stricken with brain fever, and died. Three months later Walter was born. In 1875 the group moved to El Paso, Illinois, where Mr. North followed his trade as shoemaker. In 1879 they moved to Hudson, Illinois. Here a son, George, then 17, died of typhoid pneumonia in 1886, and was buried. In 1887 the remainder of the family came back to El Paso where they lived until 1890 when the father and mother went to reside with their son, Walter.

Mr. North was a happy Christian for 63 years. At the age of 20 he was converted in a primative Methodist meeting in London. Up to that time he had not learned to read, but he then became so anxious to know the Holy Scriptures that he learned to read by studying the Gospels. He soon became a street preacher and developed a great power of appeal.

He was widely known as being powerful in public prayer. After he came to America he was made "local preacher." On Sunday he would walk miles from place to place, suffering many persecutions, but always preaching the Word to needy men, large numbers of whom were converted through his efforts. He had continued service as local preacher for more than 60 years.

From the day of his naturalization until his death, he was not only a total abstainer of alcohol, but a member of the Prohibition Party. When old parties appealed to him to vote their ticket - not to throw away his vote on a hopeless cause - he had but one answer: "Gentlemen, I must vote as I pray."

He was always a poor man; he never owned $100 at one time, yet he was never in debt, and always had some for his church.

Rev. North passed away at the home of his son, Walter, at Emington, Illinois, on February 22, 1907, age 83. Mrs. North died in El Paso in 1909.

154--BETSY NORTH 1824- (Henry, John) was born to Henry and Mary (Sainty) North in 1824, in Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England. Her baptismal date is given in the parish records as January 20, 1824.

Her mother died when she was seven and she left home to be raised by another family. It is believed that she died unmarried. She was 26, and single, in 1850 when she witnessed the marriage of her brother, William. James Ratcliffe was also a witness, and the name of Ratcliffe occurs elsewhere in this genealogy as the wife of John North (121) (Registrar's records).

155--MARY LINNIS NORTH 1827- (Henry, John), was born to Henry and Mary (Sainty) North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, in 1827. According to the parish record, her baptismal date was February 10, 1827. Her mother died when she was four years old, and she was "bound out" to live with another family. Some in later life knew her as Elizabeth.

Several years later she was traveling as a servant with a family - either missionaries or traders - in Africa and was taken sick and died there, unmarried.

156--HENRY NORTH 1828- (Henry, John) was born in 1828 to Henry and Mary (Sainty) North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England. The parish register gives his baptismal date as March 16, 1828. He and his brother, John (157), were shoemakers, working together in London for a long period of years.

Mr. North died in London, unmarried.

157--JOHN NORTH 1829- (Henry, John) was born to Henry and Mary (Sainty) North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, in 1829, and his baptism was recorded in the parish register on September 20, 1829.

John served six years in the British Army (British records). After his honorable discharge he learned shoemaking and practiced his profession in London with his brother, Henry (156), for many years.

He died in London, unmarried.

161--WILLIAM NORTH 1827-1892 (William, John) was born at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, in 1827, to William and Sarah (George) North. The parish baptismal recording was made July 12, 1827. He was their only child.

William North worked as a farmer in the vicinity of his birth, and later farmed on the Bridge Road, not far from town. At Long Sutton, he married HARRIET ANN HAWKISSTONE, born about 1830. The Long Sutton parish register shows the marraige date as April 18, 1853, but gives the spelling of her name as "Hockerstone." This is undoubtedly in error, as her daughter, Sara Jane, gave the spelling as "Hawkisstone."

According to his daughter, Sarah Jane, Mr. North was getting along well with his occupation, leasing land from Mr. Edwin Carbutt, when his eldest son, then nineteen, married his landlord's daughter, a widow with six children. Mr. Carbutt, angry to think his daughter had married a "mere boy," turned William from the farm and he had to look for another place. He took a farm in Terrington, in Norfolk. The land was clayey, and would yield nothing. Then there was the cattle plague, and he lost animal after animal. After remaining at Terrington a few years, trying his hardest to make the farm yield, but without success, he lost all, and was "sold up." He had implements to farm 200 acres, and they brought very little.

Mr. and Mrs. North moved to Tydd St. Mary, Lincolnshire, and from there Mr. North walked three and one-half miles each morning to Long Sutton Coal Yard where he worked all day, returning at night.

Mrs. North was ill before she left Terrington, and after a time at Tydd St. Mary, she passed away, on July 4, 1879, and was burried at Long Sutton. She left Mr. North with six children at home. The eldest, Harriet, was 20, and she had to mother all. Eventually, Mr. North was able to procure a house in Chapel Bridge, Long Sutton, where the family remained for many years.

Mr. North was a talented musician and could play most instruments. He was band master of the Long Sutton band. He died January 3, 1892, age 64, and was buried along-side his wife at Long Sutton.

171--JOHN NORTH 1822-1905 (Joseph, John) was born at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, to Joseph and Rachel (Simpson) North in 1822. He was born February 17, 1822, and the parish records show he was baptized two days later.

He worked as a master tailor in Long Sutton for a long period. To all he was known as "John the tailor." He made mole skin trousers and waistcoats, the accepted clothing of most in the area at that time. He traveled from house to house around the countryside to take his measurements and orders. The clothes were made in his home - servant quarters of another family.

John could play the violin and write music well. He was also quite an athlete. Even at the age of 70 he could jump on a table from a standing position - and in this accomplishment he took great pride.

John North married ELIZABETH HARRISON, daughter of John Harrison, at Holbech, on July 13, 1847. At that time John and Elizabeth were living at Lutton. After their marriage they lived at Drove End, Gedney, where she had been born February 27, 1826. Six children were born to them. The first four were baptized July 25, 1869, at Long Sutton (pr). It could be possible that a serious accidental injury to their son, John Baxter, prompted this as he died a day later (pr).

In later years, after the death of his wife, John North moved to Sutton St. James to live with his son, Alfred, who was then operating a pub, the "Hat and Feathers," there, but in a few years he moved back to Long 173--JOSEPH NORTH 1825-1914 (Joseph, John) was born on March 18, 1825, to Joseph and Rachel (Simpson) North, at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England. According to the parish register, his baptismal date was March 21, 1825. His early days were spent as a gardener.

On June 6, 1858, at the age of 23, he married ELIZABETH BURKWOOD WELBOURNE, age 25, at LongSutton, Lincolnshire (pr). She was born in Lincolnshire April 22, 1823. After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. North lived at Sutton Garnsgate, Lincolnshire, until 1884. Here Mr. North was a keeper of the Public House (inn).

In 1887 the family moved to Chicago, Illinois, and one year later moved to El Paso, Illinois, where other Norths were living. Mr. North became a farmer in a small way, and later a cattle dealer, living in the southeast part of El Paso, near the old ice pond.

To most folks in El Paso he was known as "Uncle Joe." Three children were born of this union, all in England. Mrs. North died in El Paso, March 22, 1906, after an invalidism of several years. Mr. North died in Chicago on January 30, 1914. Both were buried in El Paso.

To Joseph North goes the credit for writing some of the early history of our North family. The original manuscript, composed of five penciled pages, and written about 1900, is in the hands of this compiler, and was of great help in the initial stages of beginning this genealogy.

174--MARY NORTH 1928- (Joseph, John) was born in 1828 to Joseph and Rachel (Simpson) North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England. Her baptismal date is given in the parish records as February 27, 1828.

For a time she lived at the location of her birth, but after her marriage to _____ VICKERS, the home was at Sutton Crosses, Lincolnshire, and later Hull. To this union one child was born, a daughter.

After the death of her first husband she married GEORGE JOHNSON, a farmer of Sutton Crosses, and she became his second wife. He was a remarkable character; a champion of the working man. Once he walked to London to question his member of parliament on behalf of the railway workers. He lived to an old age, and had several wives. He was last married when he was past 80 years of age.

For some time George and Mary ran the "Spread Eagle Inn" at Long Sutton.

175--GEORGE SIMPSON NORTH 1832-1887 (Joseph, John) was born in 1832 to Joseph and Rachel (Simpson) North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England. The parish record shows the date of his baptism as December 30, 1832. His father died when he was 19, and a short time later he disgustedly left home. He found employment with the Boston, Lincoln & Sheffield Railroad Co., worked his way about the country until he eventually reached Darnall, Sheffield, near the railroad's end. Here he was a police constable for some time, and became head of a police station. He was known as "Black Bob of Darnall," and took part in many well-known arrests, including that of the notorious Charlie Peace.

Later he was a temperer of steel car wheels for the Henry Bessemer & Co., Ltd. steel works. While here a companion worker fell into the smelting steel one day and George pulled him out, dead. This preyed on his mind until his death, and seemingly he could never forget it. He was always telling the story. Later, he operated a "Green Grocery" business at No. 1 Attercliffe, Sheffield.

At Sheffield, he married MARIA TYSON, reputed to have been a cousin of William Tyson who opened up New South Wales, Australia, and died a millionaire. She was born in 1835, and died in 1919.

This Tyson wealth was a cause of apprehension by North relatives of Mrs. North. Many burned their working clothes, and "waited for their fair share." But none in our line ever became a beneficiary. And even today some distant relative have thought that I was delving into the North family history so that I might prove myself an heir.

Nine children were born to Mr. and Mrs. North; many of their grandchildren and great, grandchildren are still living at Sheffield.

Mr. North did not return to his childhood home until twenty years after leaving, but then the family became very close. He died September 10, 1887, and was buried in the Burngreave Cemetery, Long Sutton.

176--RACHEL ELIZABETH NORTH 1834- (Joseph, John) was born at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, in 1834, to Joseph and Rachel (Simpson) North. Her baptismal date is given in the parish records as June 16, 1834.

She married JAMES DAVID HAWKINS, silversmith, in December, 1856, at Bourne, Lincolnshire (from Gen. Reg. Office).

One child was born to this marriage, a daughter. Evidently James Hawkins died a few years later for Rachel left her daughter with her mother, Maria (Cutler) North (17) and went to London where she may have married WILLIAM BROOKS. Joseph North (173) records this information, along with the fact there was a son by this second marriage. He had last heard from the family in 1885.

1211--SARAH E. NORTH 1884-1908 (John, James, John) was born to John and Rebecca (Ratcliffe) North on March 8, 1844, near Tydd St. Giles, Cambridgeshire, England, but in Lincolnshire. Her parents brought her with them to America in 1849, landing on October 28th. Sarah was five. The family spent the winter at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, then moved to Washington, Illinois, the next spring. In 1855 the group moved to near Kappa, Illinois.

On October 6, 1863, at the age of 19, she was married to EDWARD TIPLER. He was born in Lincolnshire, England, in July, 1829. In 1848, at the age of 16, he came to America, and after living in several places, located at Batavia, Illinois, where he worked for $12 a month, then to Washington, Illinois, where he later married.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipler lived at Washington until 1864 when they moved to an 80-acre farm one and one-half miles east of El Paso, Illinois, purchased from Mr. Timmerman, and where they spent most of their remaining days.

In 1907 Mr. Tipler retired from farm life and moved to a home on Cherry Street in El Paso. He died of pneumonia on January 21, 1908. Mrs. Tipler died on June 3, 1908. Both were long-time members of the El Paso Baptist Church.

to Lawrenceburg, Indiana, where they spent the winter in the home of an uncle, William. James was four. The next year the family moved to a farm in Tazewell County, Illinois, near Washington, where they remained until 1855, when they moved to near Kappa, Illinois. The site was later the Herman Lampe farm. Later, a farm was purchased one and one-half miles east and one mile south of El Paso, in Gridley Township, later the Ware farm.

Mr. North united with the El Paso Baptist Church in March of 1866, and "through sunshine and through storm, in strength and in weakness, he was always in the meetings of his beloved church." (El Paso Journal)

On September 12, 1872, he married ELIZABETH BAILEY of Kickapoo, Illinois. She was the daughter of John and Anne (Lange) Bailey, and was born June 6, 1849, in Devonshire, England. She came to this country in 1855. Mr. and Mrs. North spent most of their married lifetime near El Paso. In later years they retired from farming and moved to El Paso. It was at the home at Third and Chestnut Streets that Mr. North died on April 29, 1926. Mrs. North had preceded him in death - on April 27, 1918. Both were staunch supporters of the Baptist church in El Paso.

After stopping in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, the first winter, the family moved to Washington, Illinois, where they remained until 1855, when they moved to near Kappa, Illinois. Here he attended the rural schools in the winter and helped his father on the farm in the summer.

Early in 1870 he married SUSANNAH LUCINDA ROWE. She was born October 15, 1848, at Columbus, Ohio. They farmed for a short time east of El Paso, where their first child was born and died.

In 1872 they moved to land just west of Omaha, Nebraska. In 1878, after several years of bad times, hot winds, grasshoppers, and crop failures, they sold everything and moved to near Brownsville, Oregon, where they homesteaded a farm. Later, Mr. North invested in an excelsior factory which burned to the ground before the insurance was transferred to him. All was a total loss.

A few years later he moved to a forested acreage on Bull Mountain, southwest of Tigard, Oregon. He cleared 100 acres, selling the timber for firewood, then farmed it for many years. (I had the occasion to visit this farm several years ago when a son was living there)

When he retired from farming he and his wife moved to Portland, Oregon, where he owned two homes. He died there April 4, 1917; his wife, October 15, 1917. Both were buried at Tigard.

1214--JOSEPH NORTH 1850-1912 (John, James, John) was born to John and Rebecca (Ratcliffe) North on December 28, 1850, at Washington, Illinois. In 1855 his parents moved to a farm near Kappa, Illinois.

After attending school in El Paso, Illinois, he started farming southeast of El Paso. He married JANE SIMMONS at Eureka, Illinois, on November 16, 1871. She was born July 25, 1848, at Syracuse, New York, to Thomas and Suzanna (Duran) Simmons. Mr. Simmons had been a cabinet maker in France.

Except for a few years as highway commissioner of Gridley Township (Illinois), farming was Joseph's life-time occupation. After retiring from farm life, Mr. and Mrs. North moved to a home in El Paso. Here Mr. North died on March 6, 1912, and Mrs. North on January 7, 1919.

1215--ELIZABETH NORTH 1853-1932 (John, James, John) was born on March 25, 1853, to John and Rebecca (Ratcliffe) North at Washington, Illinois. In 1855, she came with her parents to Kappa, Illinois. The family later moved to El Paso, Illinois, where Elizabeth grew to womanhood.

On October 11, 1872, she married WILLIAM BAILEY, son of John and Ann (Lang) Bailey. After their marriage they lived on a farm west of El Paso. In 1909 they moved to El Paso, occupying a home on Chestnut Street, just east of Franklin Park. Mrs. Bailey remained at the home for many years. In later life she made many, many, lovely quilts; and her handicraft was well known in the area.

She died November 23, 1932.

1217--SPENCER H. NORTH 1858-1928 (John, James, John) was born near El Paso, Illinois, to John and Rebecca (Ratcliffe) North, on April 17, 1858. He attended rural school near his farm home.

On September 23, 1875, at El Paso, Illinois, he married ELEANOR ANN MONTGOMERY. She was born at Strathroy, Canada, April 22, 1858, to Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery.

Mr. North was a farmer near El Paso until the age of thirty. He had purchased the McLafferty farm, one-half mile northeast of El Paso. In 1889 he purchased the F. S. McLafferty Implement Company in El Paso and continued as an implement dealer under the name, "S. H. North Implement Co." for many years.

Spencer North was elected alderman of El Paso in 1893 and served until 1895. He was chosen president of the Woodford County Fair board in 1912, and served for five years. His election as supervisor on the Republican ticket in 1913 was followed by re-election in 1915 and 1917, after which he declined re-nomination. He was a member of the board of trustees of the Presbyterian church for forty years, and shortly before his death he was elected one of the elders.

He died October 6, 1928. His wife had died previously - on October 18, 1920.

homa from 1914 to 1916. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and the Methodist church.

He married MARY JANE SCHOFIELD on June 3, 1889. She was born near Trivoli, Illinois, on August 24, 1863, to Richard and Jane (Barlow) Schofield. Mr. and Mrs. North first lived at Nickerson, and later at Davidson, Oklahoma.

Mr. North died February 8, 1921, at Geary, Oklahoma; Mrs. North, on August 5, 1913.

Child:

1243 1 Fern North 1891-

1244--GEORGE H. NORTH 1863-1889 (James, James, John) was born on September 15, 1863, near El Paso, Illinois, to James and Mary (Ball) North. After spending his youth in the neighborhood of his birth he moved to Riverside, California, and later lived in Canon City, Colorado. For the last two and one-half years of his life he was afflicted with consumption and traveled in many westemstates trying to effect relief. Although recovery seemed probable, he died suddenly in Canon City, November 29, 1889, unmarried, and was buried in the Kappa (Illinois) Cemetery. He had been preparing for the ministry.

1261--SARAH ANN NORTH 1849-1924 (William, James, John) was born to William and Sarah (Green) North November 4, 1849, at Lawrenceburg, Indiana. There she lived with her parents until she was five. The Lawrenceburg Methodist Church records show that she was baptized there in March, 1855. Shortly after, the family moved to Kappa, Illinois.

She was married to ELIJAH MAYNARD DIXON, farmer, and son of Joseph and Isabella (Armine) Dixon, in about 1868, at Kappa, Illinois. Mr. Dixon was born September 5, 1839. His parents were very early settlers in the area, having patented land in 1836.

In 1878 they went to a farm homestead near Wilsey (Morris County), Kansas, to live. In 1890 they located on a farm near Baldwin, Kansas, so that they would have better educational facilities for their children, six of whom went on to college. Both Mr. North and his wife were members of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Sarah Dixon died April 12, 1924; Mr. Dixon, in 1923.

1263-- HANNAH A. NORTH 1855-1914 (William, James, John) was born at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, to William and Sarah (Green) North on January 10, 1855. The records of the Lawrenceburg Methodist Episcopal Church show that she was baptized there in March of 1855, along with her two younger sisters. Shortly afterwards her parents moved to near Kappa, Illinois, where she grew up.

She married JOHN B. CHAMPION of Kappa on October 10, 1880. He was born February 13, 1853.

In February, 1885, Mr. and Mrs. Champion moved to Wilsey, Kansas. Here they resided until the spring of 1904, when they went with their family to Los Angeles, California. Shortly after, they moved to a ranch at Buena Park, California. Here they remained until 1905 when they settled in Long Beach, California.

Mrs. Champion died December 31, 1914.

Children:

1263 1	Ethel Champion	1881-1952
1263 2	Floyd Champion	1883-1956
1263 3	Lelia Champion	1887-1949

1265--MARY ELLEN NORTH 1859-1940 (William, James, John) was born near Kappa, Illinois, to William and Sarah (Green) North on November 7, 1859. She spent her youth on the family farm just outside the town of Kappa.

On April 5, 1883, she was married to CHARLES A. GULL. He was born in 1856. For many years they lived on a farm near El Paso, Illinois, but later in life moved to that city. Mr. Gull was a charter member of the Kappa Missionary Society, organized about 1895. Both were members of the Methodist church in Kappa for many years. Her father was one of its early organizers and staunchest supporters. When Mr. and Mrs. Gull moved to El Paso they transferred their membership to the El Paso Methodist Church.

Mr. Gull died June 6, 1925, at El Paso. Mrs. Gull died January 30, 1940, at the home of her daughter near El Paso, from complications which developed from a broken hip suffered May 31st the previous year.

Children:

1267--JOSIE NORTH 1865-1909 (William, James, John) was born near Kappa, Illinois, to William and Sarah (Green) North on April 5, 1865. She spent her early days near Kappa.

In her early twenties, when her parents moved to El Paso, Illinois, she accompanied them and cared for her father until his death.

On November 15, 1900, she was married to JOHN CULBERTSON, a grocer on East Front Street in El Paso. She died suddenly, and without issue, on October 8, 1909. Her husband and three children by his former marriage, survived her death.

1268--LAURA NORTH 1868-1913 (William, James, John) daughter of William and Sarah (Green) North, was born near Kappa, Illinois, on October 28, 1868. She was a member of the Methodist church. Laura attended Illinois State Normal University at Normal, Illinois, for three years.

She married JOSEPH ALBERT THORPE on March 3, 1891, at El Paso, Illinois. He was a butcher in El Paso, and was born February 13, 1853, the son of George and Eliza (Morris) Thorpe.

In hopes of improving Mrs. North's health, they moved to California in January, 1909, where the family lived in Long Beach, Anaheim, Redlands, and Highland.

Mrs. Thorpe died at Los Angeles, California, on April 8, 1913, and was buried at Redlands.

Children:

1268 1	Ruth Thorpe	1900-
1268 2	Esther Thorpe	1902-1916	b Nov. 1, El Paso, Ill. d Long Beach, Cal. Sept.

1511--WILLIAM HENRY NORTH 1857-1941 (James, Henry, John) was born to James and Sarah (Bloodworth) North near Washington, Illinois, on July 29, 1857. When one year of age his parents moved to a farm southeast of El Paso, Illinois, where he grew up and attended the Fishburn School.

On March 18, 1897, he married CHARLOTTE BURRELL DORWARD. She was born on July 9, 1855, to John and Mary (Tyrie) Dorward, near Deer Creek, Illinois. After their marriage, Mr. North started farming on eighty acres of land two miles east and one-half mile south of El Paso. He later purchased land two miles east of El Paso, and lived there until his retirement from active farm life in February, 1919, when he and Mrs. North moved to El Paso, where they spent their remaining days. The grounds of his home on East Third Street were beautifully landscaped by Mr. North and provided him with countless hours of pleasure at his hobby.

Mr. North's work in the El Paso Baptist Church will long be remembered. From the time of joining, the church became his theme. He was superintendent of the Sunday school for many years, and teacher of the adult men's class for a long period. His broad knowledge of books and the Bible, his staunch stand for truth and honesty, his clear-sightedness, and his quick repartee made him a delightful and wholesome character and teacher.

Mr. North served as a member of the Northern Baptist Convention board for a long period. He was one of the leading Baptist men in Illinois.

William filled one term as city library trustee. He was interested in school work, and for years served as a trustee of the El Paso High School. He was justice of the peace for several months, beginning in March of 1929.

Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. North. Three sons died after they reached manhood. Mrs. North died at El Paso on July 11, 1937, age 82, after 58 years of marriage. Mr. North died June 17, 1941, at the age of nearly 84, after suffering a fractured leg in a fall eight weeks earlier.

1511 6	Paul North	1895-

1512--OMER JAMES NORTH 1859-1933 (James, Henry, John) was born to James and Sarah (Bloodworth) North on May 3, 1859, southeast of El Paso, Illinois. He attended the rural Fishburn School and the El Paso McKinley School, completing 10 years of study. Later, he taught at both the Duck Pond and Grand View Schools near El Paso.

In 1890, Mr. North purchased 80 acres of land just north of El Paso, east of the Illinois Central Railroad right-of-way, for $80 an acre, and began farming. Later, on September 1, 1903, he purchased 40 acres from William Render just north of the old Fair Grounds site, for $500 (County records).

On February 3, 1892, he married LULU M. SWARTZ, daughter of Joseph Beery and Barbara E. (Keller) Swartz, farmers, residing near El Paso. She was born July 14, 1869. For many years she was organist and Sunday school teacher in the El Paso Baptist Church.

Two children were born to this union. Mrs. North died on March 8, 1896, age 27, one week after the birth of her daughter. Mr. North's mother then moved to the home and cared for the family until he remarried.

His second marriage was to Mrs. CARRIE ANN (McCAFFERTY) LOCK of Paxton, Illinois, on December 26, 1901, at Paxton. She was born September 28, 1869, at Gridley, Illinois, to John Albert and Margaret (Snyder) Mc Cafferty and first married James Wesley Lock, February 21, 1889. He died October 28, 1897.

After his second marriage, Mr. North built a new home at 193 East Fifth Street in El Paso, and farmed the land adjoining.

Mr. North took an active interest in the educational and civic life of the community. From 1918 to 1932 he served as director of the McKinley school district. In 1919 he was elected a member of the El Paso Township High School directorate and held the office for many years. He was a member of the building committee of the high school building. Mr. North was an El Paso alderman from the First ward for eight years, being elected from 1895 to 1897 and from 1905 to 1911. He was the first president of the El Paso Parent-Teacher Association. For a number of years he was head of the winter Lyceum enterprise and directed the Lincoln Chautauqua entertainments in the summer.

He was one of the founders of the El Paso Elevator Company and served as its president and general manager for several years. Mr. North was a member of the Woodford County Fair board for a long period. He was president of the El Paso Automobile Club for some time.

Mr. North was an affiliate of the Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbor camps, and headed the local Prohibition Party for several years. He was a member of the El Paso Baptist Church and served on the building committee for a new church, dedicated in 1912.

Mr. North died May 8, 1933, at El Paso, age 74; Mrs. North died August 20, 1963, age 93. Both were buried in the El Paso Cemetery.

1513--LEWIS LINCOLN NORTH 1860-1913 (James, Henry, John) was born southeast of El Paso, Illinois, on November 6, 1860, to James and Sarah (Bloodworth) North. He attended the Fishburn School, east of his farm home.

On December 30, 1886, he married DELLA NORA GROVE, daughter of Abraham and Nancy (Thompson) Grove, born August 22, 1867, at Lostant, Illinois.

They resided on a farm east of El Paso, in McLean County, a short distance north of where Mr. North was born and raised. Mr. North died suddenly of a heart attack on October 2, 1913, age 53, and was buried in El Paso. Mr. and Mrs. North had contemplated retiring and moving to El Paso in the near future.

Mrs. North settled in El Paso in 1914, and lived there until about 1923, when she moved to Decatur, Illinois. From 1929 to 1954 she resided in Pasadena, California, then moved to live with her daughter, Florence, at Clarendon Hills, Illinois. Later, she made her home in El Paso 1514--CHARLES NORTH 1862-1936 (James, Henry, John) was born southeast of El Paso, Illinois, on June 30, 1862, to James and Sarah (Bloodworth) North. He grew up on his father's farm.

On September 22, 1891, he married MELLIE E. HOSTETTER, daughter of an early-day El Paso couple, Samuel H. and Martha (Grove) Hostetter. Samuel was a member of the 96th Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, in the Civil War. He came to El Paso in 1865. Mellie Hostetter was born at Kappa, Illinois, on February 27, 1871.

After the death of his father in 1887, Charles secured the farm which his parents had cultivated for many years. Later, Mr. and Mrs. North moved to El Paso where they maintained a residence for 25 years. After Charles's death, the farm was purchased by his son, Gerald, and thus is in its third generation of family ownership.

Mr. and Mrs. North were members of the El Paso Baptist Church, where Mr. North was a deacon. He was affiliated with the Modern Woodmen lodge.

He died at his farm home on June 1, 1936, age 73. Mrs. North then went to live with her daughter where she died on October 18, 1946. Both Mr. and Mrs. North were buried in the El Paso Cemetery.

Children:

1514 1	Gladys North	1900-
1514 2	Gerald North	1905-

1532--SARAH ANN NORTH 1855-1922 (William, Henry, John) was born to William and Ann (Bransdon) North on October 13, 1855, at West Hackney, England. Her mother died two years later.

When Sarah was 18 she came to Toronto, Canada, with her father and step-mother, and later to El Paso, Illinois, then to Hudson, Illinois, in 1879.

She married WILLIAM CURTIS JONES, second son of Cushing and Charlotte (Brooks) Jones, born May 31, 1857. William's brother, Francis, also married into the "North family" when he was united with Anna Bailey (1215 1). Sarah was married in Hudson, April 8, 1880.

Mr. Jones met with an accidental death January 25, 1893, in an El Paso grain elevator owned by Mr. D. Evans, and Mrs. Jones was left with the care of four small children. The eldest was only eight. She kept the girls with her, and her husband's sister, Miss Mary Jones, took the two little boys and raised them. Mrs. Jones lived in El Paso until 1910 when she moved to Madison, Wisconsin. She remained there the next few years while her two sons attended the University of Wisconsin.

Eventually, Sarah and her daughter, Ethel, moved to Montana where Ethel, then Mrs. O. J. Berg, became secretary to her uncle, Rev. Walter North (1539). In 1921 they moved back to Chicago, and on August 10, 1922 Sarah died. She was buried at El Paso, along side her husband.

Children:

1532 1	Mabel Jones	1884-1917
1532 2	Ethel Jones	1887-1924
1532 3	Charles Jones	1889-
1532 4	Albert Jones	1890-

1539--WALTER HENRY NORTH 1874-1955 (William, Henry, John) was the last of six children born to William and Elizabeth (Fawcett) North. He was born in Toronto, Canada, December 22, 1874.

Walter came with his parents to El Paso, Illinois, in 1875, where the family lived for four years, then to Hudson, Illinois, for seven years, where he attended school, and back to El Paso in 1887, where he lived until 1895. During his youth he worked as a farm hand, clerk, delivery boy and railroad worker.

In 1894 he became a convert to religion in a revival conducted in the El Paso Methodist Church. He was given an exhorter's license and sent out to gather people together in school houses in the several neighboring districts.

After serving briefly in the pulpit of Campus, Walter located at Mackinaw, Illinois, as a preacher, so that he could be near the college campus of Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington, Illinois. This was in 1896, and six years later he left school because of ill health, without a degree.

On August 25, 1897, he married JOSIE B.HALLIHAN of Wing, Illinois. They attended Wesleyan University while Walter served a four-year pastorate at Deer Creek, Illinois. In 1902 he took a year's leave of absence, and in 1903 accepted the pulpit of the Congregational church at Emington, Illinois. Then he went to Little Falls, Minnesota, where he remained for three years - until 1911.

This was followed by a pastorate of nine years at Billings, Montana. He resigned July 4, 1920, and then served nine years at the Warren Avenue Congregational Church in Chicago. In 1929 he became pastor of the Country Club Congregational Church in Kansas City, Missouri, and served for many years.

Rev. North died March 21, 1955, at Kansas City, age 80, after spending a lifetime in religious work. Mrs. North now lives with her daughter.

1617--WALTER FRED NORTH 1864-1938 (William, William, John) was born at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, January 15, 1864, to William and Harriet (Hawkisstone) North.

Walter North was a tin smith and plumber by trade, owning his own business in Long Sutton. He was a member of the Baptist church. During his later years in LongSutton his sisters, Sarah and Ada, lived with him and kept his house.

He died June 2, 1938, age 74, at Long Sutton, unmarried, and was buried in the Long Sutton Baptist Cemetery.

1618--ALFRED ERNEST NORTH 1866-1933 (William, William, John) was born March 16, 1866. to William and Harriet (Hawkisstone) North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England.

He was apprenticed as a stone mason, and followed this trade throughout his life.

Alfred married EMILY ADA JARRETT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jarrett, on August 4, 1897, at Fleet, England. James Jarrett was manager of a brass foundry. Emily was born November 2, 1866, in Birmingham, and died December 14, 1938, at the home of her son in Long Sutton. They were married in the General Baptist Chapel, Fleet.

After their marriage they first lived at Rugeley, then, in 1898, moved to Kettering, Northants, where their first two children were born. In 1903 they moved to Oundle.

Mr. North died at Oundle November 25, 1933, age 67, and was buried in the Long Sutton Baptist Cemetery, as was his wife.

Children:

1618 1	Alfred North	1898-1958
1618 2	Ada North	1900-
1618 3	Evelyn North	1909-

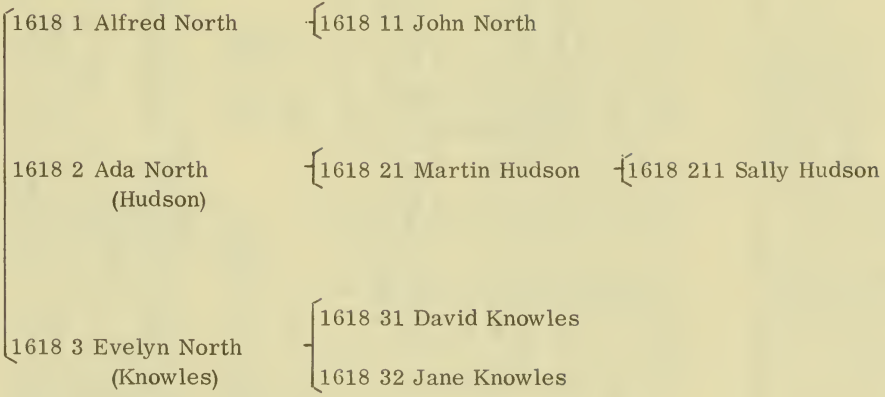
1619--REBECCA EMSLEY NORTH 1867-1928 (William, William John) was born to William and Harriet (Hawkisstone)North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, on September 10, 1867.

Rebecca was a household helper at Long Sutton. She was a member of the Baptist church.

She died October 7, 1928, unmarried, and was buried in the Long Sutton Baptist Cemetery.

161. 11--SARAH JANE NORTH 1870-1951 (William, William,

1618 ALFRED NORTH 1866-1933



John) was born November 25, 1870, to William and Harriet (Hawkisstone) North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England.

She was trained as a schoolteacher and continued in this occupation until her retirement. In later years she kept her brother's house in Long Sutton. Sarah was a member of the Baptist church.

She died, unmarried, February 14, 1951, at Long Sutton, and was buried in the Baptist Cemetery.

It was to Miss North that the postmaster of Long Sutton handed my letter in the latter part of 1938, and thus established my first connection with English relatives. I had written the postmaster hoping that he might be able to help me locate relatives. Miss North wrote me most promptly, and over a long period furnished a great deal of information regarding her family.

161. 12--ADA EMMA NORTH 1874-1955 (William, William, John) was born at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, July 23, 1874, to William and Harriet (Hawkisstone) North.

She was a dressmaker, and never married. She lived in Long Sutton with her brother, Walter, and sister, Sarah Jane.

Ada was a member of the Baptist church. She died July 17, 1955, at Spalding, Lincolnshire, and was buried in the Long Sutton Baptist Cemetery.

1711--ISABELLA NORTH 1857-1929 (John, Joseph, John) was born to John and Elizabeth (Harrison) North at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, August 29, 1857. She was not baptized there until July 25, 1869 (pr), when several members of the family were recorded.

She married her first cousin, JOSEPH NORTH (1731), about 1883. They moved to America in 1887, and lived for some time in Chicago, Illinois. Mrs. North returned to England for a visit about 1924, returning to America the same year.

Later, at the age of 70, she made another trip to England. On each voyage she always tried to convert all the Norths to go to America, but was unsuccessful in getting any to make the move.

Mr. North died in 1906; Mrs. North in December, 1930.

Children:

1731 1	John North	1884-1891

Alfred ran away from home at the age of 14, and located at West Gedney Hill, near Peterborough, and went to work for a goose raiser. He took care of thousands of geese, grazing them in groups over the grasslands, much like the endeavors of a shepherd. He worked for a man named "Seaton," and at the age of 21, in 1884, married his niece, MARY EMMIE SEATON.

Prior to the marriage he became a poultry dealer and acquired the nickname, "Banty North." In 1884 he went to Sutton St. James to run the pub, "Hat and Feathers," and lived in the same building for 38 years. It was a large two-story building containing both the tavern and the living quarters. It still stands in use, and in good condition. Alfred North became, in point of service, the oldest inn keeper in the business in England

He had purchased a small farm near Sutton St. James, hoping that a son would take over the operation of the Hat and Feathers, however, the son died in the influenza epidemic of 1918. Mr. North continued on at "Thistlewood Farm" for a year, then went back to operate the pub in 1923.

He died at Long Sutton in 1928.

1761--RACHEL ELIZABETH HAWKINS 1859- (Rachel, Joseph, John) was born to James and Rachel Elizabeth (North) Hawkins at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England. When a young child, her mother left her with her grandmother, Maria (Cutler) North (17) and went to London. Later Rachel was taken by George and Maria North (175), uncle and aunt, and unofficially accepted as a daughter.

Rachel married JOHN SMITH, bachelor, laborer, and 21, at Christ Church, Attercliffe, Yorkshire. He was the son of John Smith, laborer (pr). Rachel, also of Attercliffe, gave her age as 19 when she was married, but was actually a year or two younger. She also gave her father's name as George Hawkins, perhaps to further confuse her youthful age (pr). John Smith died early in life, without issue.

On March 11, 1893, at Middlesbrough, Yorkshire, Rachel, then 34, married JAMES NOBLE GROOMBRIDGE, son of William and _____ Groombridge. William was a farrier (blacksmith). James was born in 1868, and was a widower and 25 years of age when he and Rachel married, and at which time his occupation was given as ironworker. Both were living at 30 Carlton Street, Middlesbrough, at the time of their marriage (from certified copy of marriage certificate).
